Stimson Cancels Louis-Conn Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson this afternoon, summarily canceled arrangements for the scheduled Oct. 12 heavyweight championship fight between Joe Louis and Billy Conn with the explanation that "the standards and interests of the army do not permit the proposed contest to be carried out."

Mr. Stimson ordered Sgt. (Joe Louis) Barrow and Cpl. (Billy) Conn returned at once to their military duties.

Earlier, Stimson and Maj.-Gen. A. D. Surles had called into conference John Kieran, New York sports writer and chairman of the sports writers' committee of War Boxing Inc., which had been making the arrangements.

Japs in Trouble

CHUNGKING (AP)—The Japanese are having serious trouble in Kiangsi province with the Chinese troops of their puppet Nanking regime and one puppet commander has been executed by the Japanese, the Chinese high command said tonight in a special communique.

Nanchang, capital of the province, and Teian have been the seats of trouble, the communique said, and all Nanking troops at Nanchang have been disbanded.

900,000 Ask Boost

CHICAGO (AP)—Railroad management and labor sources which declined to be quoted reported today that 15 brotherhoods of nonoperating employees had notified the carriers of demands for a 20-cent-an-hour wage increase, with minimum of 70 cents an hour, and a closed shop.

The nonoperating brotherhoods, unions of personnel such as clerks, telegraphers and signmen, represent more than 900,000 workers.

Pilot Killed in Crash

CALGARY (CP)—A pilot was killed and a student trainee seriously injured when their plane crashed Thursday near Beiseker, Alta., it was announced this afternoon by officials of the No. 2 Wireless School, R.C.A.F., here, to which the plane belonged.

Croat Leaders Under Arrest

LONDON (CP)—Dr. Vladimir Macek and five other leaders of the Croatian Peasant Party have been arrested at Zagreb on their refusal to collaborate with the Axis, Yugoslav government sources in London asserted today.

Information reaching London indicated the arrests resulted when Macek refused to accede to requests by Ante Pavelic, chief of state, and Col.-Gen. Alexander Loehr, Hitler's new commander in the Balkans, to take a post in Pavelic's government.

Organized Vice

EDMONTON (CP)—In passing sentence on four Edmonton men convicted on charges of committing indecent acts, Mr. Justice W. C. Ives in Alberta Supreme Court today said it was obvious "there is an organization apparently at least between here and Vancouver devoted to the purpose of this bestiality."

Harvey Kagna, 37, was sentenced to three years; James Richardson, 34, to two years, and Wilfred Collier, 25, to two years, less one day.

Bag 3 Nazi Planes

LONDON (CP)—A Wellington bomber of the coastal command, manned by a Polish crew, shot down off another in a battle over the Bay of Biscay Thursday, the Air Ministry announced today. The action brought to three the total of Nazi planes destroyed over the Bay during the day.

War Deliveries Up

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors Corporation announced today that deliveries of war materials from its plants in Canada and the United States in August totaled $205,667,029, an increase of $48,774,681 over deliveries in July.

Communist Test

Buck, 12 Others Give Up to Police; Would Aid War

TORONTO (CP)—Thirteen leaders of the Communist Party of Canada, including Tim Buck of Toronto, the party's general secretary, surrendered to Royal Canadian Mounted Police today and were taken to the Don Jail on charges of being members of the Communist Party.

They had been sought by police for internment under the Defence of Canada Regulations since the party was declared an illegal organization by the federal government in June, 1940.

Buck led the party of 13 to the office of J. L. Cohen, Toronto lawyer, from where they went to R.C.M.P. headquarters.

Cohen's office said two other Communist leaders who also had been in hiding would surrender later today, Leslie Morris of Toronto, "somewhere in western Canada," and Oscar Cain of Toronto in Windsor, Ont.

Another party leader, William C. Ross, former member of the Winnipeg school board, was arrested on a downtown Winnipeg Street Wednesday after appearing for the first time since his arrest was ordered at the workers' committee office there.

ALWAYS IN CANADA

Mrs. Buck after being told of her husband's surrender, said he had lived in Toronto but not at home since the war started.

Buck appeared in good spirits and stood around Cohen's office talking with the other members of the party and newspapermen. The others who surrendered with him are: Stewart Smith, former Toronto alderman; Sam Carr, Toronto, organizational secretary of the Communist Party; Stanley Ryerson, Evariste Dabe, Fred Rose, Henri Gagnon, Emery Samuel and W. Fortin, all of Montreal; James Litterick, Winnipeg, former member of the Manitoba Legislature; Sam Lipschitz, Gus Sunquist and William Kashtan, all of Toronto.

Kashtan formerly was secretary of the Young Communist League of Canada.

BY WAY OF APPEAL

In a statement given newsmen Buck said the decision to surrender was made "so as to appeal against the internment orders which now prevent us from giving our full energy to strengthening the country's war effort."

"Our sole motive in taking this action is to help eliminate the controversial issue created by the internment orders and the ban against the Communist Party of Canada," his statement said. "These internment orders have now become an obstacle to the development of full national unity and, therefore, an obstacle to the development of a total war effort."

No Change Made In Ottawa's Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—A Justice Department official said today that Tim Buck and the 12 with him will be given a hearing before a board of appeal set up under the Defence of Canada Regulations, in the same way previous cases have been handled.

One Justice Department source said he anticipates the hearing will be held in Toronto early next week.

Suggestions that there had been a new policy adopted, under which those against whom warrants had been issued would be given a clean sheet if they surrendered, were flatly denied at the Justice Department.

Just over two months ago a special House of Commons committee which studied the Defence of Canada Regulations recommended that the ban on the Communist Party be lifted. The recommendation has not been put into effect, but since it was made a number of persons of alleged Communist sympathies have been released from internment.

Meningitis Kills Brother and Sister; Sooke Schools Close

A Sooke brother and sister, 5 and 4, died this week, within 24 hours of each other, from cerebro spinal meningitis. Their father, suffering from the same disease, is making good progress towards recovery in Jubilee Hospital isolation ward.

Dr. J. Brown, medical health officer at Sooke, has isolated all contacts, including the victims' seven brothers and sisters and ordered the public school at Sooke closed. Sooke village and district have been placed "out of bounds" to all troops.

The little girl died at her home on Tuesday. Early Wednesday morning her brother and father were rushed to hospital, where the boy died 12 hours later. They were sick only a few days.

Arrangements have been made for a strictly private, double funeral, in accordance with the Health Act.

WARNING

Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial health officer, said today the provincial situation regarding cerebro spinal meningitis is satisfactory.

"At the present time there is no outbreak of epidemic proportions in any place in the province," he said. "Individual cases have appeared from time to time and do not seem to bear any relationship, one to the other, which is frequently the story of this disease. There is, therefore, no need for undue alarm."

Dr. Amyot said particular attention should be paid to the avoidance of all persons with colds and any unnecessary overcrowding.

He gave the following advice: "The common cold demands careful attention. Those with colds should be avoided because of the ease with which infection is spread. As colds may be the forerunner of many more serious diseases immediate rest in bed for one or two days is recommended in the earliest stages of the nose and throat infection. This rest in bed protects other members of the family and the public from infection and is a very satisfactory and inexpensive method of treatment for the patient."

"A liberal and easily-digested diet with plenty of liquids should be taken. Any serious or unusual symptoms should be the signal for medical attention."

Allen Captured, Asked Interview With Rommel

LONDON (AP)—Larry Allen, Associated Press correspondent who fell into enemy hands in the British commando raid on Tobruk Sept. 13-14, fared his Axis captors by demanding an interview with Marshal Erwin Rommel, D.N.B. disclosed today in a broadcast from Berlin.

(Although the Italian radio had announced the capture of an American correspondent in the Tobruk raid, since established to have been Allen, this was the first time that the Axis radio has mentioned the name of the Pulitzer Prize winner who had been with the British fleet in virtually all its big Mediterranean operations.)

The radio said this "rather queer wish by the prisoner" amazed the captors but they turned it down, even though the Nazi desert commander happened then to be in Tobruk.

Ignoring the fact that Allen was assigned permanently to the British fleet, the Germans purported that his presence on a destroyer meant that the raiders intended to try to hold Tobruk, because "a Yankee would not have risked his skin for an unimportant trip if he had not hoped to get a big story."

D.N.B. said Allen was picked up in a boat, his uniform not even wet, and was being treated by the Italians as a prisoner of war.

Allen asked to be exchanged immediately for an Axis prisoner in British hands, but said D.N.B. the request "first must be carefully examined by competent quarters."

Marines Take Jap Prisoners in Solomon Islands

There were not many Japanese prisoners taken in the American invasion of the Solomon Islands, but there were some. Here, behind barbed wire, are fighting sons of the Rising Sun, who knew when they had enough. A U.S. Marine, centre, lines up a group of Japs while in the background another group is marched off.

Coast Forest Areas Closed to Public

Forest district, which includes this island and the lower mainland, has been declared closed, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, said today.

"Only exceptions are the west coast of this island from Toqua Harbor north; the east coast of the island from Squash Bay north; and the mainland and islands from Wells Passage and Kingcome Inlet north."

All traveling, camping, fishing, hunting and all other recreational pursuits are prohibited, except under written permit from the forest branch, Mr. Gray said.

This order covers only recreation, and does not affect logging and other industrial operations in the woods, the minister said.

Howe Appeals For Travel Cut

OTTAWA (CP)—An appeal to Canadians to avoid all unnecessary travel—including postponement of conventions and similar gatherings for the duration—was issued today by Munitions Minister Howe.

"We are rapidly approaching the point where railway, airline and bus systems will be operating at peak capacity," he said.

"Shortages of critical materials make it exceedingly difficult to replace existing transportation equipment, for which reason we must use our transportation systems to the best advantage."

Shortage of Loggers Causes Mill Lay-off

Officials of the Straits Lumber Company at Red Gap, 16 miles north of Nanaimo, today blamed "shortage of logs due to scarcity of fallers and buckers at island logging camps" for the lay-off of 90 men at the company's mill Thursday.

A mass meeting of employees has been called for tonight, with members of Nanaimo's newly formed fuel committee invited to attend along with other Nanaimo businessmen. Laid-off employees said the remaining 40 or 50 men at the mill probably would be laid off next Thursday.

Wayne R. Pendleton, manager of the Straits Lumber Company, said "the situation has been aggravated to a marked degree due to increasing manpower shortage in the logging camps which supply the needed logs for operations."

Willkie Sees Russians At Battle Front

MOSCOW (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie returned to Moscow today from a 14-hour jeep car trip to the German-Russian front which took him well within earshot of dueling artillery.

With Lieut.-Gen. Lilyushenko of the Red Army and a party of Americans, Willkie rode for miles across seas of mud. He said he had a really first-hand opportunity to study the Russian troops at work and was very much impressed.

The soldiers asked him, as had Moscow workers, when the United States and Britain would establish a second front, he said.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst Tokyo and Berlin are making noisy propaganda today of the claim that a fraction of the Mikado's navy, size unstated, has managed to get into the Atlantic and that there has been an equally mysterious "German naval operation in the Indian Ocean." The one specific claim is that a Japanese submarine has called at a German naval base—"in Europe," according to the Berlin version—and "again set sail for strategic waters."

NO MILITARY GAIN

This much may well be true. It would be no great feat for one of Japan's long-range submarines. But the military value of such a cruise would be negligible. Its primary purpose—assuming it actually was made—therefore must have been to create material for the propaganda blast loosed on the world's air waves this morning.

The United Nations, it is apparent, are not the only ones assailed by the misgivings and misunderstandings that inevitably plague allies in a life-and-death struggle of the kind we are fighting now. Japan, friendless in the midst of her broad "co-prosperity sphere" and separated by the greatest of continents and all the seven seas from her allies, must at times feel terribly alone. Even the Japanese people, fed on a steady mental diet of assurances that they move from victory to victory and that the virtue of the emperor assures their final triumph, like the further assurance that they are not one people against all the world.

TASK FOR LEADERS

The factors making for division among the United Nations are grave enough. The task of keeping them spiritually together in the common purpose of ending the Nazi and Nipponese aggressions is one that challenges all the statesmanship at their command. If there were any doubts of this the atmosphere surrounding Wendell Willkie's visit to Moscow, the formal politeness of his hosts, the constant questions about the second front, the mounting evidence of Russia's disappointment in the aid of her allies have dispelled them.

But at least none of the Allies has to contend with the dreadful feeling of physical isolation that must beset the Japanese.

Tanker Beats Off Surfaced U-Boat

HALIFAX (CP)—A north Atlantic battle that saw a tanker beat off a surfaced U-boat with her deck gun was disclosed here when the body of one of the tanker's crew was brought in for burial.

The tanker managed to make port after a fight that lasted several hours, though she was badly crippled. Down by the stern after a torpedo from the submarine had ripped into the port side, she still managed to limp along and put out a shell barrage that kept the sub at a distance.

Only casualty aboard the vessel was Edward Dick, 21, of Hull, Eng. He was reported missing at first, but after the tanker had made port and then put to sea again, the body was found in the after section.

It was brought in here by another vessel.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Goes to Ottawa

Robert W. Mayhew, M.P., after greeting Revenue Minister Gibson here, left the city today for Ottawa to attend a meeting of the War Expenditure Committee of the House of Commons.

Before his departure Mr. Mayhew said he wished to impress on citizens the necessity of seeing that their property is covered by war risk insurance. He warned householders not to wait for the sirens to howl, but to check with their insurance agent without delay.

Under the act free insurance is allowed up to a certain limit for air raid damage.

Russians Retake 2 More Heights Near Stalingrad

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW (AP)—Thrown on the defensive on Stalingrad's northwestern rim by the development of the Red Army's flanking counterattack, the Germans were reported today to have failed in fresh infiltration attempts directly against the city while battling desperately against the menace from the flank.

The epic battle centred on the northwestern sector, where the Russians had recaptured two dominating heights and nearby, populated sections, according to today's Stalingrad dispatches.

"The German high command claimed its troops had taken 'further fortified points in fierce street fighting,' and, conceding the defensive nature of the fight on the flank, said 'Soviet relief attacks against the northern barrier erected by German and Allied troops were repulsed in hard fighting.'"

Stalingrad Greatest Battlefield of War

The Russian army newspaper Red Star declared that no other city in this war had been such a battlefield as Stalingrad. A military commentator quoted by Tass, official Russian news agency, said the Germans had lost more than 25,000 dead in the last week.

"And Stalingrad is not the fortress which Verdun was," he added.

Red Star said German tanks were cruising the streets and alleys of Stalingrad, seeking to fall unexpectedly on Russian positions and demoralize the men holding them.

Despite this infiltration, it was said, the Russians were countering successfully with anti-tank guns and grenades, generally holding their ground. One street running from the western edge of the city to the high cliffs along the Volga was attacked "scores of times" by German tank forces and tommy-gun shock troops—without avail.

A savage battle was in progress northwest of the city, where Russian planes, tanks, heavy artillery and troops have struck repeatedly into the Germans' left wing.

Field dispatches said Red army forces had captured two hills and, in one sector, killed 900 Germans.

Russian Tank Crews Score Successes

"German attacks were repulsed," the noon communique said. "Soviet tank crews destroyed two German tanks and wiped out about two enemy infantry companies. In fighting for a populated place our troops wiped out about 500 Germans, took prisoners and captured war materiel."

The reformed defences within Stalingrad were menaced for a time by a Nazi attack which overran a group of houses, but "Soviet troops counterattacked and restored the situation," it was announced.

Red army staff officers in a headquarters dugout far underground charted an active defence which carried the battle of Stalingrad into its second month and, temporarily at least, menaced a powerful segment of the siege lines.

(The Berlin radio hedged again on a claim by German military quarters Sept. 15 that the battle was in the "final phase." It broadcast a dispatch which said the high command preferred a gradual, systematic advance in order to save men and "the fall of the city may thus be delayed for some time.")

Stubborn Battle On Volkov Front

"Stubborn engagements with the enemy" were noted in the Zinyavino area of the Volkov front, where the Germans were said to be trying to drive a wedge into Russian positions.

Russian artillery and mortar batteries have destroyed 26 enemy blockhouses and dugouts and various German weapons in that area near Leningrad in two days, while snipers killed about 200 of the enemy, the noon communique said.

Revenue Minister Announces

B.C. Fishermen Taxed At Source of Income

Canada's No. 1 tax gatherer has his eye on the commercial fishermen of British Columbia, who are making big money by harvesting record catches.

The net result is that the men engaged in the province's fishing industry will have the privilege of contributing more to the revenue of the federal government.

Col. the Hon. Colin W. G. Gibson, Minister of National Revenue, who reached Victoria this morning with three of his key men, made the announcement that tax deductions will be made at the source of the fishermen's pay cheques.

He said an order-in-council had been passed covering the new ruling and that the first deductions were made yesterday.

"In British Columbia," said Col. Gibson at the Empress Hotel this morning, "a special condition prevails in the fishing industry whereby fishermen not in touch with the office of income tax experience a double difficulty in making tax remittances, as well as finding the payment of a lump sum awkward."

"For these reasons, as well as securing revenues for the Crown, I recommended that an order-in-council be passed—and it has been passed since I arrived here—with the idea of requiring all cannery operators to make deductions from all payments for fish, certain percentages of the purchase price.

"The deductions to be made at the source will be 20 per cent for salmon seiners and halibut fishermen and 10 per cent for gill-netters and others."

KEEP TRACK OF MEN

While fishermen have not in the past been exempted from paying income tax, it has been difficult for the tax collector to keep track of them as they are away from port much of the time on their boats. Consequently the government has been losing some revenue in the fishing industry.

"This plan, I am sure, will be for the benefit of the fishermen as well as ours," said Col. Gibson.

Col. Gibson, who is making his first visit to Victoria since 1913, is accompanied by Mrs. Gibson, Hugh D. Scully, commissioner of customs; C. Fraser Elliott, commissioner of income tax, whose signature is familiar with all who fill out income tax returns, David Sim, commissioner of excise, and M. O. Davis, Col. Gibson's private secretary.

Greeting the taxation group this morning were Robert W. Mayhew, M.P.; J. J. Johnson, president of the Chamber of Commerce; George H. Gowan, president of the Canadian Club, and G. A. Yardley, collector of customs and excise for Victoria.

NO RELIEF

With the nation fighting the greatest war of all time and the revenue department grappling with the problem of financing it, there is no relief in sight for the overburdened taxpayer—at least while the war lasts. Canada's war expenditures for this year alone are double the entire expenditures of the last World War.

Giving staggering figures, Col. Gibson said: "Before this war was thrust on the world we thought a $500,000,000 budget was heavy. Today it is eclipsed by an estimated expenditure of $3,900,000,000—or approximately eight times as great as the pre-war level."

"There are but three ways in which such a sum can be raised—by taxation, by borrowing and by inflation."

The dangers and disastrous results from inflation, the minister hastened to point out, definitely ruled out that method of financing the war.

"Therefore," he continued, "the Minister of Finance (Hon. James L. Halsey) is obliged to raise funds by imposing revenue taxes of $2,050,000,000 by compulsory loans of $1,000,000,000 and by voluntary loans of $1,750,000,000—roughly 50 per cent."

Introduction of the refundable tax this year, he said, was done because the government considers that in a time of emergency like this everybody should save something.

MUST CURTAIL

"Canadians," he warned, "must face the fact that during wartime our standard of living must be reduced. Certainly, the people will have to make more curtailments of luxuries and nonessentials."

The nation's factories were necessary for the manufacture of vital war equipment and supplies, rather than for production of luxuries which, in many cases, had almost come to be considered as necessities.

"One thing that particularly struck me on my tour across the country," said Col. Gibson, "was the co-operative spirit exhibited by people in every walk of life. People realize that taxation is necessary in a time of emergency like the present, and they are prepared to make sacrifices to assure the winning of the war."

Every 25-cent War Savings Stamp buys 12 bullets.

Taxes for All, Says Elliott

Summary of the economic and administrative principles inherent in Canada's tax legislation as prepared by G. Fraser Elliott, commissioner of income tax, here today with Hon. Colin Gibson, National Revenue Minister, follows:

1. That in peacetime the tax measure should be used, through the medium of special tax credits, for stimulating the increase in the national income.

2. That the stimulus to the national income occasioned by substantial war capital expenditures having little or no postwar value should not be heavily taxed without giving special credits or allowances by way of relief.

3. That one should not in a time of crisis and rising revenues leave out of the tax brackets the great body of patriotic citizens who receive low wages, for they desire to pay directly, and the country needs a return out of the substantial aggregate of income which such persons receive.

4. That the intention to impose severe taxation should closely follow the rising national income, but not so fast as to preclude opportunity for appropriate adjustment of private and corporate affairs.

CENTRALIZATION

5. That multiplicity of taxes should be avoided, as was done by the Dominion-provincial agreements, and a central, strong and effective tax plan should be followed.

6. That war taxes should be contained in special war measures and not in basic continuing measures.

7. That, anticipating the cessation of war and the decline in all incomes, collection at the source should be developed as far as possible, so that the heavy tax will be paid out of current income.

8. That the control of profits of salaries, of wages and of prices, and a system of rationing, though they adversely affect revenues, are more to be desired than noncontrol with resultant inflation.

9. That a deadline for profits in the form of a wholly non-refundable 100 per cent tax in a capitalistic system is the frustration of its basic principles and the destroyer of hope and without hope, industry wanes.

10. That, as high corporation taxes are an invitation for excessive and extravagant expenditures, a strong administrative control thereof is essential.

11. That all business concerns and the people of the nation should be made to feel that there is a genuine bond of sympathy and understanding between the government and themselves in relation to their numerous and difficult problems.

12. That where discretion is to be exercised, or facts correlated which will form a basis for future tax liability, such matters should be dealt with as far as possible by an independent, responsible board.

13. That internationally, taxation at source of income between contiguous countries should be on a basis of parity, and that, particularly in times of heavy taxation, there should be established a modus vivendi to prevent the one country from being used as a basis for fiscal fraud on the other.

GLADSTONE FOSTER DIES AT NANAIMO

NANAIMO—Gladstone Foster, a resident here for the last 57 years, died Thursday at his home, 554 Howard Avenue. He was 76 years of age.

Mr. Foster formed, and for several years conducted, the Nanaimo Fife and Drum Band, the city's first musical organization. He was also an organizer of the Nanaimo Silver Cornet Band and was a member for many years. For the last 40 years he was a member of the local senior F.O.E., and was a singer in St. Paul's choir. He served for two and a half years during the last war with the 102nd Battalion.

Surviving are four sons, Cedric, Herbert and Clyde, Nanaimo, and Nelson, South America; three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Bennett and Mrs. L. McIntyre, Nanaimo, and Mrs. D. MacIsaac, San Francisco; a brother, Livingstone Foster, and a sister, Mrs. M. Johnston, New Westminster.

U-boats launched their first attacks Sept. 12 from bases on the Norwegian coast. The following day these were extended, while German planes also sowed mines in front of the convoy.

In the early stages of the battle, one U-boat was attacked and probably seriously damaged, the Admiralty reported.

The commander of the convoy was Rear-Admiral E. K. Boddam-Whetham, D.S.O. The escorting forces were led by Rear-Admiral R. L. Burnett, O.B.E., who flew his flag on the cruiser Schylla, commanded by Capt. I. A. P. MacIntyre, C.B.E.

The Admiralty told how the convoy was shadowed Sept. 12 by aircraft and U-boats, against which several attacks were carried out, and how on the following day heavy fighting broke out. The first air attack came from

Saga of Convoy to Russia

Escort Bags 2 U-boats, Downs 40 Nazi Planes

LONDON (CP)—The Royal Navy lost the destroyer Somali and the minesweeper Leda in a convoy homeward bound from Russia after getting "the great majority" of the laden merchant ships through to Soviet northern ports, the Admiralty disclosed today in a complete account of the sea struggle in the Arctic Ocean.

At least 40 Nazi aircraft were blasted from the sky, the Admiralty reported, while two U-boats were almost certainly destroyed and four others probably seriously damaged.

Convoy Attacked On Homeward Trip

"The task of the escorting ships was by no means complete" when the goods had been delivered to Russia, the Admiralty related, and the commander of the convoy "turned his force to fight the homeward-bound convoy from Russia back through areas in which the enemy has concentrated in such large forces."

On the outward journey, the Admiralty previously had disclosed that most of the merchant ships carrying war supplies for Russia had reached their destinations and that none of the conveying warships had been lost despite Nazi air and U-boat attacks in the autumn dusk of the Arctic.

Bound back, however, it said the Somali was torpedoed by a submarine and sank after breaking in two when she had been in tow in bad weather for more than three days. She was an 1,870-ton vessel of the Tribal class.

The Admiralty said that although the convoy was first sighted Sept. 9 off Norway it was not attacked until three days later.

Only four of the British naval fighter planes which operated from carriers were lost during the two-way battle and three of the pilots were saved.

German Planes Forced to Quit

"It seemed as if the German air force had had enough," the Admiralty asserted drily when telling of the returning convoy, "for this convoy was not attacked from the air."

"It was, however, attacked on several occasions by U-boats and there were some losses among ships in this convoy. Many counterattacks were made on the U-boats."

Like the Somali, it was during the U-boat attacks that the minesweeper Leda was sunk.

U-boats launched their first attacks Sept. 12 from bases on the Norwegian coast. The following day these were extended, while German planes also sowed mines in front of the convoy.

The Admiralty told how the convoy was shadowed Sept. 12 by aircraft and U-boats, against which several attacks were carried out, and how on the following day heavy fighting broke out. The first air attack came from high-flying bombers who dropped their explosives through gaps in the clouds. Next, between 40 and 50 torpedo bombers flew towards the convoy in line abreast, close formation, and attacked.

Carrier-borne naval fighter aircraft and ack-ack fire destroyed five enemy planes, seen to crash into the sea, and probably destroyed or damaged many others.

The third attack of the day came from nine torpedo bombers, which were driven off by gunfire, the planes dropping their torpedoes from long range. Two of these planes were seen to crash.

At dusk, 12 torpedo bombers came over the ships, but again the attack was frustrated by naval fighters and heavy anti-aircraft fire. Six enemy aircraft crashed, running the day's total bag to 13 destroyed.

The next morning at dawn U-boats returned to the attack, several being subjected immediately to depth charges. In one case, bubbles, oil, wreckage of wooden gratings and some green vegetables floated to the surface.

Early that afternoon a flight of 22 torpedo-bombers attacked the convoy. An aircraft carrier was the main target, but was not hit, the Admiralty said.

The next morning at dawn U-boats returned to the attack, several being subjected immediately to depth charges. In one case, bubbles, oil, wreckage of wooden gratings and some green vegetables floated to the surface.

Early that afternoon a flight of 22 torpedo-bombers attacked the convoy. An aircraft carrier was the main target, but was not hit, the Admiralty said.

Tory Committee Meets in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, national Conservative leader, announced this afternoon that plans have been prepared for the establishment of a national convention committee, "representatives of all Canada."

The statement followed a meeting of 10 men prominent in Conservative Party affairs on Parliament Hill today.

Eight of the men present at today's gathering were named by Mr. Meighen as an interim committee to make convention plans. They are Conservative House Leader Hanson; Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Conservative leader in the Senate; Senator Louis Cote of Ottawa; Joseph Harris, M.P. for Toronto-Danforth; Gordon Graydon, M.P. for the Ontario riding of Peel; Lt.-Col. J. A. Ross, M.P. for Souris, Manitoba; H. Milner of Edmonton, and Gustave Monette of Montreal. The other two present at the conference were Mr. Meighen and A. C. Caselman, Conservative whip.

All 10 stressed to newspapermen that the gathering was "very informal," and they used its informality as a reason for declining to pose for press photographs.

There was no speculation from those attending as to when the meeting might end, but it seemed certain to continue all through today at least.

Mr. Harris appeared for the meeting with an arm in a big white sling. He said he had hurt the arm in a machine, but that the injury was not serious.

6 Named to W.I.B.; Bruce Hutchison Finishes Assignment

OTTAWA (CP)—Appointment of six men—one of them, an American—to executive positions with the New Wartime Information Board headed by Charles Vining of Montreal was announced by the board today. They are: Leo Casey, New York, prominent United States newspaperman and publicist, described by the board as former special representative of Wendell Willkie.

Harry Sedgwick, Toronto, president of Standard Radio Ltd., operating radio station CFRB, and for 10 years president of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters.

(Mr. Casey and Mr. Sedgwick will be located at New York.) A. D. Dunton, Montreal, editor of the Montreal Standard.

J. B. Ketchum, Toronto, associate professor of psychology at the University of Toronto.

R. B. Perrault, Montreal, president of Cumming-Perrault Ltd., and former president of the Advertising and Sales Executives' Club of Montreal.

John C. Porter, Toronto, advertising manager of Simpson's Ltd., formerly on the editorial staff of the Toronto Star.

(These four men will be located in Ottawa.)

RETURN TO COAST The statement announcing the appointments said Bruce Hutchison of Victoria has completed a temporary assignment which he undertook for the information board earlier this month and now is returning to his regular work with the Victoria Daily Times and other papers.

There was no word as to the specific duties which the six new appointees will perform, nor was there any announcement of the salaries they will receive. The statement merely said the appointments had been approved by the Governor-General-in-Council.

It was understood further executive appointments have yet to be made.

It was said by one informed source that "it is to be assumed" there ultimately will be an appointment corresponding to that formerly held by G. Herbert Lash—director of public information. Mr. Lash resigned following establishment of Mr. Vining's new Wartime Information Board.

Mr. Ketchum has been acting in an advisory capacity in the National War Services Department for some time, on such questions as morale building.

Duncan District Men Join Veterans Guard

Five men of the Duncan district enlisted in the Veterans' Guard of Canada during a visit there by a recruiting unit under Capt. A. J. Shipley, who was accompanied by Sgt. F. A. Main of Victoria, and C.Q.M.S. Alex. Reid of Duncan.

The five men were: Joshua Robinson, Kokislah; Albert Oliver Price, Cobble Hill; Edward Haworth Lovett, Duncan; L. Marrs, Sahlam, and H. Ross, Ladysmith.

'Fantastic' Life In Hongkong

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—How seven Americans and a Briton roved the captured city of Hongkong to collect and deliver supplies to prison camps and hospitals, is told by one of them who returned on the exchange ship Gripsholm.

He is Charles Schafer, who said he was one of the few Allied Nations' nationals who was not interned "in second-rate Chinese brothels in the downtown area" when the Japanese took the city last Jan. 5.

In six months, Schafer said, the eight men, driving trucks, delivered 800,000 pounds of firewood to hospitals, and hundreds of tons of rice, beans, cooking oil and flour to internment centres.

He said he thought Japanese "got a kick out of seeing us do cooie work. . . . They trusted us to deliver the full amount of our loads," he said, in explaining why the eight were allowed freedom. He and the others escaped imprisonment by serving as medical truck-drivers the entire time he remained in the city.

"We lived a fantastic life. While others in the camp went through a month of virtual starvation, we had sufficient to eat, and . . . we slept in spacious quarters."

He described conditions in Hongkong as "terrible," and said cholera reached near-epidemic proportions.

DUNCAN AIDS SOLARIUM The Duncan Rotary Club has undertaken to sponsor a bed at the Queen Alexandra Solarium at a cost of $250, and at a dinner meeting, Tuesday evening, discussed ways and means to raise the necessary money. Additional ways of helping the Solarium were also discussed. Expenditure of $300 at Rotary Park, near the White Bridge, was approved.

That Convoy

NOW THE WORLD HAS LEARNED what actually happened to that large Russian-bound convoy which the German propaganda department had extravagantly announced as one of the most striking Nazi naval victories of the war. Instead of half a dozen warships and at least 38 out of 45 merchantmen destroyed, the Admiralty lists the casualties among the escorting fighting craft as one destroyer—which remained afloat for three days and then broke in two—and one minesweeper, adding that the "great majority" of the supply ships reached the safe haven of Russian ports with their valuable cargoes. On the credit side of the ledger, however, it appears that at least two enemy submarines and more than 40 Nazi planes of various types now litter the floor of the Arctic Ocean; it is probable, too, that the damage done to other German aircraft prevented some of them from reaching their home bases.

Following its usual custom, the Admiralty does not propose to reveal, until it suits its purpose, how many merchantmen were sunk in the several concentrated attacks from the air and by underwater craft which marked the passage of this large convoy. That the German propaganda department had begun to realize it had been drawing the long bow about the encounter was evident from its announcement two days ago that Nazi air losses were considerable. The remarkable point of the whole incident, however, is that so substantial a part of the great argosy succeeded in getting through; and it is now clear that the exaggerated accounts of the battle were intended to cover up the enemy's severe losses. Axis claims of sea victories in future will be more suspect than ever. And this "incident" reminds us of the magnificent work of the Navy and the Merchant Marine.

Turkey Not Fooled

REPORTS FROM THE SWISS CAPITAL on Tuesday intimated that Nazi ambassador Franz von Papen's return to Ankara might be regarded as the signal for new demands on Turkey for an "active contribution to the struggle against Bolshevism." The report first appeared in the Basler National Zeitung and seems to have been based on certain remarks credited to Hitler's archpriest of intrigue at the German sports festival in Istanbul, the gist of which was a veiled warning that Turkey faced the fateful decision of helping to save Europe from destruction by the overflow of the Soviet Union's political philosophy.

If von Papen has such a plan in mind, and if it has been noted at the Turkish capital, we can almost hear Premier Saracoglu suggesting that he "tell it to the marines." However, the only indication that the ambassador has arrived back in Ankara takes the form of an announcement that he has informed the government there that Adolf Hitler has graciously granted the Turkish Red Cross permission to send food to Greece. Exercise of that privilege, incidentally, no doubt will be accompanied by a careful watch on the disposition of any cargo placed at the tender mercies of the thugs of Himmler's Gestapo.

While nothing is visible on the surface to indicate that Turkish policy toward the belligerent nations has undergone any material change, the wily von Papen for long has been preaching the virtues of association with the Axis, a carefully-devised technique which so far has produced no practical results. And the alighting references in the German regimented press to the visit of Mr. Wendell Willkie to Ankara only served to emphasize the cordiality with which the Turkish government and people welcomed Mr. Roosevelt's "roving ambassador."

What is probably adding to the Fuehrer's worries at this stage is the somewhat outspoken comment in the Turkish press on the magnificence of the Soviet Union's resistance to the Wehrmacht at Stalingrad. Nor should it be forgotten that it was the men of Moscow who gave Mustafa Kemal Pasha the practical sympathy he needed during the early days of the young Republic—now the important Turkish nation for whose favors and co-operation the chief belligerents continue to bid in one form or another. And it was the late Kemal Ataturk, as he was latterly known, who once cautioned his colleagues: "For as long as you can honorably do so, keep Turkey out of war. But if you must go to war, don't fight on Germany's side, you lose if you win." They will not lightly disregard that advice.

Twisting Fact

ONE PART OF THE STATEMENT which announces Mr. Meighen's intention to call a convention of the National Conservative Party of Canada cannot be allowed to go without challenge. It observes that the organization over whose destinies he presides has "pressed unrelentingly for a broadening of the basis of government of Canada, and for union therein of all forces earnestly seeking and prepared to sacrifice for victory."... nevertheless for over three years those views have been rejected by the King administration, and the offer of co-operation contemptuously spurned.

With all due respect to the foregoing view of the one-time Prime Minister of Canada, we submit that his statement in at least one important particular is categorically refuted by historical fact. Considerably less than three years ago—two and a half years, to be more precise—the Canadian people were asked at a general election to say whether they wanted a national or union government headed by Hon. R. J. Manion, or whether they preferred to retain the administration led by Mr. Mackenzie King. Their answer was the defeat of Dr. Manion in his own riding and the endorsement of the government by the largest majority ever presented to a political party in the history of the Dominion.

That decision was recorded in accordance with traditional democratic procedure. To be sure, in the meantime the Canadian people have witnessed the fantastic spectacle of a two-man campaign to draft General McNaughton for Prime Minister, and more recently the Herridge proposal to vest in President Roosevelt complete dictatorial powers over all the United Nations. But has Mr. Meighen some magic formula that would work better or more fairly than that which still seems popular and effective in all countries still free?

Anything For A Grouch

OUR MORNING CONTEMPORARY tells us that "in all diplomatic history there was surely never a more anomalous position than the presence of a minister of the Vichy government at Ottawa." On the face of it, of course, the soundness of the observation would seem to be unchallengeable. But when the contention is advanced merely as an excuse to attack the King government, additional proof is revealed that the Colonist has neither the inclination nor the intention to delve deeply enough to discover either extenuating circumstances or justifiable reason for the present relationship between Ottawa and Vichy—as represented by the continued presence of M. Rene Ristehueber at the Dominion capital.

What the morning paper carefully refrains from mentioning, of course, is the fact that the tie between Canada and Vichy is retained because it suits the policy of Britain and the United States, the British Prime Minister having said so specifically in the House of Commons on more than one occasion. To be consistent, then, the Colonist should take both the government heads in London and Washington over its knee and spank them as well as Mr. Mackenzie King. The implication that because Pétain and Laval congratulated the Germans on their "repulse" of the gallant Canadians and other United Nations forces at Dieppe Mr. Ristehueber did likewise is to lay a charge which may not be easy to substantiate. On the contrary, we would wager that no such message went to Vichy from its Ottawa representative, as anyone familiar with the facts of the situation will understand.

Of course, Mr. Ristehueber is in the pay of Vichy; he gets his salary cheque from the provisional capital of France, and is able to cash it. But the minister is discharging his difficult and often onerous duties, as he nears the date of his retirement on pension, in a manner that is satisfactory not only to Ottawa, but also to London and Washington. There are aspects of the situation that, of necessity, cannot be discussed in public. If Canada desired to aggravate that situation, however, she could give the Vichy minister his marching orders. The repercussions that would follow might be more serious to the cause of the United Nations than the Colonist realizes. In other words, this subject is not the best peg on which to hang further captious criticism of the King government, "anomalous" as the position may appear on the surface.

Stamps At Street Corners

VICTORIANS TOMORROW WILL HAVE an unusual opportunity of buying Canadian securities on the street corners instead of going to the bank or to some of the stores which handle this type of investment as a public service. In other words, willing and winsome young ladies from the community's high schools will be on duty at all the city's strategic intersections with an ample supply of War Savings Stamps for sale, and they intend to vie with one another in demonstrations of sales technique.

Let us emphasize the main point of this innovation: Our citizens will not be asked for a gift—it is not a tag day—they are to be introduced to an easy method of investing in the future of their country. It will be a test of our business acumen, a reflection of our attitude toward the nation's cause, and will reveal in some measure how much we desire and believe in an all-out war effort. Every quarter so invested will come back to its owner with interest. That alone should be a compelling inducement to buy.

Strange Case of Eire

AFTER WANDERING ROUND IRELAND, a veteran reporter has reported on the popular Irish (Eire) explanation of that part of the country's neutrality in this war. It is not Anglophobia, says he; rather, neutrality rests upon the belief that Ireland could not survive a war as an independent nation. She would have to accept British dominance during the fighting, and the Irish fear, could not get rid of the British when peace came. Boiled down, it appears that the Irish would prefer the risk of German domination to the possibility of British perfidy. Such interpretation is, of course, a libel upon Irish intelligence; but undoubtedly the people of Eire would prefer that to the alternative suggestion—that they are ducking the horrors of war by letting the British do their dirty work for them.

ANOTHER SILLY DAY

DIARY OF ANOTHER dull day at Ottawa.

Up betimes to find the government-hating press of eastern Canada out at last after Chubby Power. He has been the white-haired boy of all Canadian journalists since the war began. Even papers which loathed his leader said that Chubby was all right and doing the best he could in a wretched cabinet. Now, because Mr. Power is "Canadianizing" the Royal Canadian Air Force, he is denounced in ultra-conservative papers as a wrecking who, if left long alone, will probably smash up the British Empire.

Curiously enough, at the same time, a high Australian official has been here, looking at the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan and preparing for the "Australianizing" of the Australian Air Force, and no one is criticizing that proposal. And both plans have already been approved by the recent air conference of the United Nations here.

There is no intention of creating any kind of a barrier between Canadian and British airmen overseas but Mr. Power knows the morale value of grouping the Canadians together, though they will operate, of course, in accordance with the strategy of the Royal Air Force. But the plan offers to government enemies the first chance to injure Mr. Power, who has been the chief motivating force between the Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

PRICE OF INDEPENDENCE

LUNCHEON WITH AN economic expert who was alarmed at the sudden pressure of Canadian farmers for higher prices on the ground that the American farmer gets more than they do. Said this expert, the American farmer has nearly always got more than the Canadian and so has every other average American. The American people are simply richer than we are and have always enjoyed a higher standard of living.

They can do so because their country has richer resources, because they benefit by the low costs of huge mass production and because we, on the other hand, are spread all over the map, not concentrated, have to pay huge transportation costs and do not produce on such a mass basis as our neighbors. In fact, our higher costs are our price for political independence.

If we abolished the boundary line we could hope for a fractional gain in our standard of living, and at the same time our population would largely drift into American production centres. Montreal would shrink, British Columbia's resources would be manufactured in Washington and you would most likely have to go to Port Angeles to get a job.

The current economic miracle in Canada is that our price level has declined in the midst of war, a phenomenon perhaps unknown to history. Our ceiling is working so far better than anyone dared to hope. The Americans are trying desperately to imitate us before it is too late.

CANADIANIZING THE R.C.A.F.

From Financial Post

In some sections of the press a note of hysteria seems to have crept into the current controversy over Canadianization of the Royal Canadian Air Force. The Toronto Globe and Mail sees a threat to our imperial connections, a sort of undercover scheme to wean Canada from the British Empire.

This is only confusing the issue. There has been no suggestion of a separate command; of setting up a supreme Canadian staff which would decide where or when or if we would send our fighters and bombers on any mission. Air Minister Power, who sponsors Canadianization, explains it simply as a regrouping of our airmen overseas into solid Canadian units. At present thousands are scattered through the R.A.F. fighting all over the world.

Such a regrouping would end a lot of morale-upsetting little troubles, for these Canadian lads attached to the R.A.F.—such things as pay and allowances, lack of familiar recreational equipment, and mutual topics of conversation with their comrades and, above all, homesickness. "They will," as Air Marshal Edwards stated in London last week, "be happier if they can talk to other boys from Yarmouth or Aurora, Portage or Chilliwack. Not only happier, but more efficient in the performance of their high tasks."

At first there was some justification for mixing Canadian air crews with the R.A.F. because our lads lacked the necessary experienced leadership. But after a year or more of fighting over Germany, Burma, and Libya, there is no difficulty about fliers from this Dominion furnishing any leadership now. Grouped solidly together, Canadian fliers will fight with that team spirit which is so essential for victory in the air. There is no more reason for scattering them through the R.A.F. where identity is largely lost, than there would be for breaking up our army organization and mixing our men and officers indiscriminately through units of the British army.

If you haven't much, think how little you have to get to improve your situation.

Patience is not a virtue, however, if you suffer in silence only for want of courage to rebel.

Parallel Thoughts

And said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.—Luke 22:46.

Gods dwells far off from us, but prayer brings Him down to our earth, and links His power with our efforts.—Mad. de Gasparin.

Canadians—Pioneer Commandos

William Philip Simms in Scripps-Howard-Newspapers

THAT THE SMASHING raid on Dieppe was a success came as no surprise to old-timers here when told that the 10,000 Commandos who took part were largely Canadians.

If the Canadians did not invent that kind of warfare, they most certainly were the first to make use of it during the first World War. Subsequently they developed its technique to such a point that it came into common use.

Early in 1915, near Festubert, the Germans threw up a road block supported by a network of trenches which very much annoyed the Canadians opposite. These happened to be the 7th Battalion, under a young major by the name of Victor Odlum. He worked out a plan to put an end to the nuisance, got it approved and carried it out with brilliant success.

What Major Odlum started is still going on, only it is blossoming into something bigger. I recall watching Canadians and, later, British units rehearsing a coming raid. Behind the lines somewhere they would mark out lines with white tape the exact trench formation they intended to invade, then practice on it daily until they could do the whole show blindfolded.

Similarly they made life miserable for any Germans that got into no-man's land. They did not regard the space between their trenches and enemy trenches as nobody's. It belonged to them. They patrolled it regularly, and woe to any hostile patrol they happened to encounter. So skilled did they become that they were seldom caught napping. They did the surprising.

The senior officer commanding the Dieppe raid was Major-General J. H. Roberts of Kingston, Ont., and every Canadian Air squadron in the area was in the umbrella protecting the raiders. But down under, in Australia, there is at least one man who may be excused if he reads about the Dieppe exploit with envy. He is the Canadian High Commissioner, Major-General Victor Odlum, the major who staged the raid at Festubert in 1915.

It is nothing new for Canadians to be good soldiers. There is none better anywhere. During the first World War nothing made me prouder than to hear Allied generals compare our doughboys with the Mapleleaves and to be told that ours were just as good.

The soldiers of some countries have too much discipline. Some haven't enough. Some are brutal and some are soft. But the Canadians seem to have about the right blend of discipline and democracy, dash and cool-headedness, of citizen and soldier.

I was with General Watson's Fourth Canadian Division when it took Regina Trench, in the Somme, in 1916. I saw the Canadians later at Mount St. Elia, Sanctuary Wood and at Vimy when they stormed the crest of the chalky eminence and made it British for the duration.

I was with them still later, in Flanders, as the rains turned the whole plain into a quagmire. The tanks bogged down in the undrained fields. Strong men drowned in water-filled shell-craters which could not be seen beneath the surface of the muck. Countless wounded choked to death as they fell unconscious in the bloody mud. But Sir Douglas Haig needed Passchendaele, on the comparatively dry ridge east of Ypres, and asked the Canadians to give it to him. And they did.

Near Lens, I saw a Canadian soldier rescue a mongrel dog abandoned by the Germans in a booby-trap dugout when he might have been blown to bits at any moment for his pains. Moreover, the dog, hungry and terrified by what it had been through, did its best to tear the soldier to pieces. Later it became a company pet named—of course—Fritz.

In the first World War the Canadians were sure-fire trench raiders and trouble-shooters. Where the going was hardest, there they were.

HIGHER V.D. INCIDENCE

Re-establishment of a division of venereal disease control by the Department of Pensions and National Health was advocated by the Canadian Public Health Association at its recent conference in Toronto.

A resolution, sponsored by that body, asked that the "co-ordinated program of venereal disease prevention" which had been in operation between 1920 and 1932 be resumed by the Dominion government.

It stressed the need for greater assistance from the federal government to cope with the war-time situation which has resulted in an "increased exposure rate leading to a higher incidence of venereal disease."

The vigorous program carried on by the United States Public Health Service was cited, and comparison made between the amounts voted for venereal disease control by the federal health authorities in the United States and Canada. Last year the sum voted to the U.S.P.H.S. was 11 times greater per capita, than the grant made by the Dominion government to the provinces.

Resumption of grants to the provinces and voluntary agencies for public education was seen as a necessary measure.

ALLIED BRIGHT SPOT IN DARK AFRICA

By JOHN GROVER

Vichy propaganda, possibly a prelude to severing relations with the U.S., brings France's African holdings squarely into focus in this war of continents.

Neutral press sources carried the story that Hitler has increased pressure on Laval to sever diplomatic relations with

13 CHILDREN—BUT NO WRINKLES

What a rarity!—a woman with a large family and an unlined face. Read this letter she has written:—

"I am a woman of 50, have a family of 13 children, and have not a wrinkle on my face. Some time ago I passed through a very severe illness, and resolved to try Kruschen Salts, and am a new woman since taking them. I have taken Kruschen for twelve months—not a small dose, but half a teaspoonful every morning in a cup of hot water. I think Kruschen gives you a feeling of buoyancy and youth that nothing else does."—(Mrs.) E. T.

Many minor illnesses, depression and worry—which are the chief causes of wrinkles—are frequently due to the presence in the system of poisons bred by the waste products of digestion. These poisons are the root cause of rheumatic pains, headaches, kidney trouble and other complaints, which make people old before their time. Kruschen helps to expel those poisons and keep the blood-stream pure. And a rich supply of pure, vigorous blood is one of the secrets of youthful vitality.

the U.S. to permit "protection" of France-in-Africa.

The seriousness of such an Axis acquisition cannot be discounted. Nor can the growing importance of Allied holdings in Africa and the good use to which they are being put as American men and supplies pile up there in tremendous quantities for future use against the Axis.

The bulge of Africa has assumed major importance in the Allied scheme of things since began to move via air from Brazil across the South Atlantic's 1,600-mile "narrows" to Allied bases in West Africa, thence across Africa's waist to Egypt, the middle east, Russia, India or China.

Interruption of this steady flow of fighting planes, equipment and technical experts would be serious indeed.

Yet every one of the Allied "toeholds" on the African bulge is a relatively small chunk of real estate surrounded on three sides by Vichy-owned territory.

Dominating the bulge is the heavily fortified Vichy naval base at Dakar. In German hands this could be the ultimate jumpoff for a later move on South America. Of more immediate concern is the fact that it would threaten the plane ferry landing and would be a magnificent operational base for surface and U-boat attacks on the seaborne traffic to the Allied fronts.

There is no doubt that the Allied high command is concerned over the possibility that Laval will stooge for the Nazis and turn over French holdings in Africa.

It has recently been reported that U.S. technical troops have been installed in the Belgian Congo and French Equatorial Africa, where the Fighting French are in control.

This tends to indicate that the United Nations will make a major effort to counter an Axis-Vichy merger. Fighting French patrols have, with little equipment and makeshift supply lines, ranged far into Libya to dominate the southern part of that Italian colony.

A considerably body of military opinion holds that a desert-trained expeditionary force, supplied by cargo planes, could penetrate northward into Libya to menace the rear of the Axis troops now in Egypt. The northern portion of French Equatorial Africa could likewise be the jumpoff for action against French West Africa, and could be similarly supplied.

There is also the possibility that the air ferry route from Brazil could be changed, with stopovers at British-owned islands in the South Atlantic to lessen the menace of Dakar and Vichy territory on Africa's bulge.

It is certain that action in Africa, heretofore confined to the Mediterranean coast and East Africa, could well spread to the whole continent.

Both sides have vital stakes in Africa. Transport and operational bases there could quite easily have a direct bearing on the outcome of the gigantic campaigns in Russia, Egypt, India or China—which is to say the fighting fronts of the world.

U.S. Authors Score Dreiser

NEW YORK (CP)—The Writers' War Board, an organization of American authors devoted to furthering the war effort of the United States, has issued a statement condemning novelist Theodore Dreiser for saying in a Toronto interview that he would rather see the Germans in England than the "aristocratic horse-riding snobs of the existing regime."

The board, headed by Rex Stout as chairman, declared in the statement that "it was not aristocratic snobs who rescued the British army at Dunkerque or who, greatly outnumbered, blasted the Luftwaffe from the English skies in 1940, or who stopped Rommel in his tracks last month."

"The people of the British Commonwealth are fighting this war as our brave and faithful allies, as are the Russian people and the Chinese people."

Expressing regret that "an American writer of Mr. Dreiser's eminence should thus insult and offend our allies," the statement said:

"Certainly our enemies would pay him well for his disservice to our country's cause."

The board's membership includes such widely-known authors as Pearl S. Buck, Franklin P. Adams, Clifton Fadiman, Paul Gallico and William L. Shirer.

Reserve Chiefs Discuss Training

OTTAWA (CP)—With the season of weekend tactical schemes in the open country nearing an end, leaders of Canada's reserve army met here today and discussed their winter program.

Called together by Maj.-Gen. B. W. Browne, director-general of the reserve army, the commanders of the reserve brigade groups across the country assembled for two days' discussion of how the "people's army," as Gen. Browne calls it, can be made a more effective fighting force.

In some areas the reserve is up to full strength, Gen. Browne said in an interview, but the force can stand 25,000 to 35,000 more men and he believes there are many men in the country who should be in it, learning how to defend their own country and their own homes.

CAMPS SUCCESSFUL

The summer camps for the reserve were highly successful, Gen. Browne said. Since then the midweek drill nights at barracks have been supplemented by the week-end exercises in which units go out to perform manoeuvres on the ground.

The winter activities necessarily will involve more work in the drill halls, lectures, drill on the floor and weapon instruction. It should be possible to get many of the men in the reserve into fairly advanced studies now that they have a suitable grounding.

An important subject discussed today was whether winter training in barracks might not be better than summer training in camps for rural units.

It would take farmers away from their land during the slack instead of during the busy season. Against it are the difficulties of obtaining accommodation for training whole units indoors in winter. Many of the towns which have suitable drill halls are crowded with war workers. There is also a question as to whether winter indoor training can ever be as valuable, particularly in modern war, as outdoor training.

Gen. Browne is keen on getting business men, professional men and others of ripe experience into the force.

8,000 to 10,000 Killed at Karlsruhe

LONDON (CP)—A Reuter's news agency dispatch from Zurich, Switzerland, today quoted persons who survived the last heavy air attack on Karlsruhe as estimating 8,000 to 10,000 residents of the city died in that assault.

According to reports of eyewitnesses, the dispatch said, at least two-thirds of Karlsruhe was either razed or so badly damaged that only the outlines of ruined buildings remain. Industrial areas were reported badly battered.

(Canadian crews said on their return from the raid that extensive fires were burning in the important German transport centre. The raid was the seventh of the war on Karlsruhe and its big railway shops.)

Col. Jones Promoted

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Ralston announces the appointment of Lt.-Col. C. S. Jones, 59, of Ottawa, assistant quartermaster-general (supplies and accommodation) in the branch of the quartermaster-general at National Defence headquarters, as director of supplies and accommodation. Lt.-Col. Jones also is promoted to the rank of colonel.

Col. Jones heads a new directorate under the deputy quartermaster-general's supply and transport branch.

Blame Ottawa For Beef Upset

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba Federation of Agriculture, in a statement released here, declares federal government authorities "responsible for the present confusion and unrest regarding the supply of beef."

The statement, signed by B. E. Lewis, secretary, says "the federation does not believe there is an acute scarcity of cattle or that the farmers are trying to take advantage of any situation." (Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, recently said the present shortage of beef in Canada was "acute" but it was believed "that it can be overcome.")

"The whole livestock marketing industry, in our opinion, is under the control and influence of the large packing interests," the statement says. "For years the organized farmers of Canada have requested the federal government to appoint a board of livestock commissioners, with authorities comparable to those of the board of grain commissioners."

RAIL GRADING

"This request," the statement says "has been ignored, and farmers have had imposed upon them such schemes as compulsory rail grading of hogs, a scheme which tends further to monopolistic packer control and the destruction of the public market."

"It is common belief that this has discouraged the production of hogs, and rumors are audible that rail grading of cattle is being considered.

"It seems incredible that the expressed wishes of the producers should be so flagrantly ignored when the production of food is so vital."

"The farmers of western Canada are carrying a load of debt estimated at between $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000. Creditors are expecting payment, and marketable grain quotas are in most cases insufficient to pay harvesting expenses."

CATTLE SITUATION

"The shipment of Canadian cattle to the United States under the quota agreement has been stopped by the Canadian Food Corporation, another blow to the farmers who depended upon cattle marketing during this period of distress."

"The federation recommends: 1. That the Food Corporation take control of all beef cattle marketing and set up machinery similar to that in effect during July; 2. That beef cattle be appraised and settled for at American market values, processors to be supplied with domestic requirements at prices in line with established beef ceilings, with any loss sustained by the Food Corporation, in effect, a bonus to the Canadian consumer; 3. That steps be taken toward the appointment of a board of livestock commissioners, with adequate organized producer representation."

Ban Frosh Hats

6,000 U.S. Troops Held in Manila

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright and an estimated 6,000 other American defenders of Bataan and Corregidor were reported today to be war captives of the Japanese in a prison camp at Tarlac, north of Manila, in the Philippines.

A partial list of about 200 prisoners has been compiled from information furnished by some of the small number of persons permitted to leave Manila.

Gen. Wainwright, commander of the Philippine forces after Gen. Douglas MacArthur went to Australia, was taken with the fall of Corregidor May 6.

Definite information on how the war prisoners are faring still is lacking, but Americans returning on the exchange ship Gripsholm pictured occupied Manila as a drab island capital, with hardships expected to increase since the start of the rainy season.

Liberal to Meet

WINNIPEG (CP)—Officials of the Manitoba Liberal Association have announced an annual meeting to be held here Oct. 30, the first yearly get-together since the start of the war. Last annual meeting was held Oct. 14, 1938.

wearing the yellow and gold hats except around the varsity district. It was stated that to some people to whom the war was very near, the hats, "which present a rather ridiculous aspect," seemed out of place in wartime, officials said.

May Use Older Women To Relieve Mothers

By RUTH COWAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grandmothers may be mobilized to care for the children of mothers in war industry.

This is one of the ideas under consideration by the children's bureau of the department of labor for recommendation to state and local communities as a way to release more womanpower for the factories and give grandma a part in the victory program.

Miss Katharine Lenroot, chief of the children's bureau, is emphasizing that industrial communities should plan ahead through their offices of civilian defence for day-time care of children so that the youngsters will not suffer from neglect as the war industries reach out for more and more women.

The children's bureau already has had reports of small children left in locked automobiles because their mothers, employed in factories, had no place to leave them. Miss Lenroot also noted that the juvenile delinquency rate is rising alarmingly in some areas.

The idea of utilizing older women—the younger grandmas and mothers-in-law who have never had any special industrial training and who perhaps would prefer to remain in the home, but yet want to help, was stimulated by the recent American Legion Auxiliary convention.

Beaver Theta Rho Girls' Club No. 4 will meet in the lodge rooms Friday evening at 7:30.

Weddings

HOWARD—HALLETT

In the presence of relatives on Tuesday morning at St. Augustine's Church, Vancouver, Rev. Father James Sullivan officiated at the marriage of Joan Gertrude, only daughter of Mrs. A. D. Hallett, Cadboro Bay Road, and Mr. Frank L. Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Howard, Montreal.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Metcalfe, and she was smartly gowned in an ensemble of teal blue with a corsage bouquet of gardenias and freesias. The only attendant was Miss Gertrude Howard, sister of the bridegroom, dressed in navy blue with a corsage bouquet of roses and forget-me-nots, and Mr. E. Gilmour, Vancouver, supported the groom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Hallett, was present at the wedding, wearing blue silk with a spray of roses and sweet peas on her shoulder. After the wedding breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Metcalfe, Mr. and Mrs. Howard left for a honeymoon at Harrison Hot Springs, and will make their home in Montreal, where the bridegroom is secretary to Mr. H. F. Matthews, C.P.R. superintendent of hotels. His father, Mr. D. L. Howard, is assistant manager of the Canadian Pacific communications, with headquarters in Montreal, and he is a nephew of the renowned Catholic missionary and air force chaplain, Father Howard.

DUNNETT—BOURNE

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at 8 in the First Baptist Church when Rev. G. A. Reynolds united in marriage Christine Eileen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Bourne, Vancouver, and Gordon Murray Dunnett, third son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Dunnett, 1120 Blanshard Street.

The bride was given away by Mr. A. R. Green, and wore a gown of white sheer crepe, with a sweetheart veil, and carried a sheaf of pink roses, white carnations and heather. The only attendant was Mrs. W. Clayton, who wore a floor-length frock of pale yellow crepe with hat to match, and carried a sheaf of mauve asters. Mr. W. Clayton supported the groom and Mr. G. Green and Mr. E. D. Dunnett acted as ushers.

A reception was held in Terry's Rose Room, where Mrs. Bourne received the guests, dressed in a gown of black crepe and a corsage bouquet of carnations, assisted by Mrs. Dunnett, also in black, with a corsage bouquet of yellow roses. A three-tier bride's cake centred the supper table, which was arranged with white tapers, and vases of mauve asters and white gladioli.

The honeymoon will be spent up-island and in the interior, after which Mr. and Mrs. Dunnett will make their home in Victoria. The bride left in a dress of blue wool jersey and black accessories. Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. F. Westwood, Miss Luella Bourne and Mrs. G. Bourne, all of Vancouver. An airgraph letter from A. E. Dunnett, serving overseas, was read at the reception.

Engagements

MCCOY—CAMERON

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cameron, 1803 Fernwood Road, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Annie Knox (Nancy), to A.C. Arthur G. L. McCoy, R.C.A.F., elder son of Mr. A. G. H. McCoy and the late Mrs. McCoy of Victoria.

The marriage will take place quietly at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 8 with Rev. J. L. W. McLean of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church officiating.

PAYNE—CRABTREE

The engagement is announced of Lillian Crabtree, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Higham, 3458 Bethune Avenue, to Mr. Charles William John Payne, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Payne, 244 Richmond Road. The wedding will take place shortly.

JONES—KAYE

Mrs. Eugene Norris announces the engagement of her only sister, Helen Kaye, to Mr. Elton Jones, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones of 2836 Shelbourne Street. The marriage will take place Oct. 19 at 8:30 in the First United Church.

To relieve distress of MONTHLY Female Weakness

AND HELP BUILD UP RED BLOOD!

Receives Welcome to Victoria

Mrs. Craig Campbell who arrived here from England a few days ago with her husband, Lieut. Craig Campbell, R.C.N.V.R., is seen in this charming picture taken by the Times photographer in the garden of the Angela Hotel. During the absence of Lieut. Campbell on naval duty, Mrs. Campbell will make her home with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Campbell, 923 Burdett Avenue. Already Mrs. Campbell has been widely entertained since her arrival in Canada two weeks ago.

Social and Personal

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Woodward, and their daughter, Miss Woodward, returned to Government House today from Vancouver.

L.A.C. John C. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Campbell, Ryan Street, has returned to Regina where he will continue to train for duties with the R.C.A.F.

Nursing Sister Ruth McTavish, R.C.A.F., has arrived from Jericho Hospital, Vancouver, and is visiting her parents, Alderman and Mrs. Duncan D. McTavish, who recently moved from 28 Douglas Street to 678 Dallas Road.

Mrs. W. Ficks, formerly Miss Caroline Faulkner, was honored prior to her marriage Saturday evening by a shower given by Miss Enid Mesher and Miss Dorothy Kermode at the home of the former on Dallas Road. Little Barbara Watson presented the guest of honor with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and rose buds, and also the gifts which were hidden in a small car. Games were played during the evening and a buffet supper was served by the hostesses from a table centred with a low bowl of pink carnations. The guests included the guest of honor's mother, Mrs. Faulkner and Mrs. E. C. Mesher, Mrs. E. Kermode, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. H. Martin, Mrs. R. M. Watson, Misses Marie Kane, Elsie Ross, Thelma White, Olive Mair, Roberta Watson and Mary Jones.

Miss Joan Toms, whose marriage to W.O.2 Bernard Tarling will take place Saturday, was guest of honor Wednesday evening at a linen shower given by Miss Peggy McVie, at her home on 922 Lyall Street. The bride-to-be and her mother, Mrs. F. Toms, were presented with corsage bouquets of pink and red carnations respectively, while the many gifts were concealed in a large box gaily decorated in red, white and blue. Red, white and blue streamers decorated the rooms, and airplanes were suspended from the ceiling. A mock wedding took place during the evening, the bride being Fit-Lt. B. A. M. Herber, the groom Miss Barbara McVie, the minister Mr. Eugene Bergstrom, the father Mr. F. Toms, and the best man Mr. Busher Jackson. The bride was dressed in white satin and carried an amusing bouquet of vegetables, while the groom was in evening dress with a top hat. A buffet supper was served and other guests included Mesdames Delamare, J. Terry, Edmunds, Barnes, Mannix, Hillborne, Taylor, G. Leggett, Mr. McVie, the Misses Doreen Toms, Ivy Dunnet, Jean Ray, Jessie Edmunds, Helen Bergstrom, Eva Eastwood, Lenora Mannix, Ida La-londe, and Fit-Lt. Peter Dunn.

W.O.2 Bernard Tarling, Fit-Lt. Stam, Sgt.-Maj. R. McVie and Sgt. W. Allan.

WOMEN IN AIR FORCE

Recruits from Victoria recently enlisted in the R.C.A.F. (women's division) from the No. 1 Recruiting Centre, R.C.A.F., Vancouver, include Miss Thelma Mary Minto, 116 Olive Street, and Miss Florence Muriel O'Malley, 65C Wilson Street.

Moving Pictures Of Jungle Life To Be Shown

The Women's Canadian Club will meet Tuesday, at 2:45, in the Empress Hotel, to hear Major C. C. Wilson, C.I.E., V.C., soldier, traveler and big game hunter, when his subject will be "Wild Life in the Indian Jungles." He will show with his travelogue, moving pictures of trapping and training wild elephants and of animals in the forest. These pictures were made by Major Wilson in the course of his official tour two years ago, when he was in control of the Department of Forestry, under the government of Madras in southern India. He was in the service for 32 years and can therefore speak with authority on his subject.

During the first Great War Major Wilson served for three years in Mesopotamia with the Bengal Lancers. His time as Chief Conservator of Forest in Madras coincided with the period of rule there by the Congress government, and Mr. C. Rajagopalachari, one of Gandhi's chief lieutenants, was the Prime Minister.

Major Wilson has been showing his pictures to help raise funds for the purchase of fighting airplanes, and his collection includes pictures of the little mongoose fighting the deadly hooded cobra, and the young elephant bucking like any broncho.

The soloist will be Mr. William Watson and Mrs. C. C. Warn will accompany him. Mr. Watson is well known to the club as a speaker.

The Women's Association Presbytery of the United Churches of Vancouver Island will meet in Fairfield United Church on Tuesday at 2:30. Dr. W. J. Sippell will give the opening address of welcome. Miss Isabel Pike will sing. Rev. T. G. Griffiths of St. Alden's United Church will speak on "The Work of Woman in the Church." After a short business meeting, victory refreshments will be served to enable the members to meet socially.

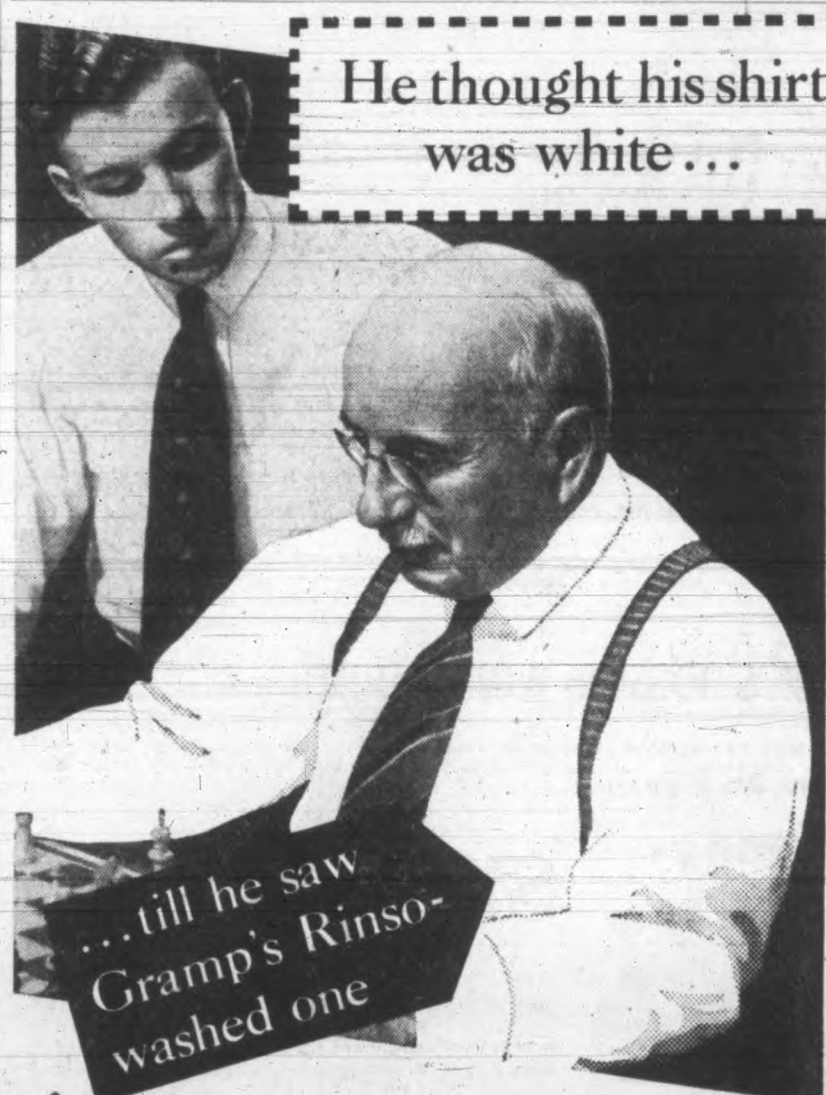

Friends of Mrs. D. Spano, Chambers Street, will be sorry to hear that she is a patient in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Miss Leah Riess, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Campbell, Ryan Street, has returned to her home in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack P. Davies, Seattle, are spending their honeymoon in Victoria at the Windermere Hotel. Mr. Davies is known here, having spent six years in Victoria, where he attended Prospect Lake, Cedar Hill, Willows and Cloverdale Schools when his father, Mr. Thomas P. Davies, had a position in the U.S. Immigration Office. The pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Jeanette Bigelow of Magnolia Bluff, Seattle, on Sept. 18. The bride was Miss Florence Kardong of Seattle. Rev. John F. Dunstan of Prospect Church performed the ceremony. The bride and groom will make their home at Bristol Apartment, 13th Avenue, Seattle, and will return here on Oct. 1.

A farewell party for Miss Nina MacLennan, who is leaving shortly for Sidney, N.S., to be married, was given on Tuesday evening by Miss Audrey Abery, 1274 Denman Street. The complete works of Robert Burns were presented by Miss Pat Abery to the guest of honor from her fellow classmates of St. Joseph's Hospital. A sit-down supper was served, the table being centred with red and white carnations flanked by red tapers. The guests were: Misses Beryl Atkinson, Lucille Banks, Ethel Blenkinsop, Kate Brand, Gertrude Crawford, Margaret Dean, Joan Fish, Charlotte Foxcroft, Jessie Gare, Mary Hopkins, Edna Merritt, Frances Matterson, Rene Melorin, Dorothy Pain, Isobel Sim, Myrtle Wong and Julia McClurg.

Miss Nena MacLennan, who will leave next month for Sydney, Nova Scotia, where her marriage to Sub-Lieut. John Ernest Jones, R.C.N.V.R., will take place, was honored Tuesday evening by Miss Audrey Abery who entertained at her home, 1274 Denman Street. The assembled guests, who were all classmates of the bride-to-be at St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing presented her with the complete works of Robert Burns. They included Misses Beryl Atkinson, Lucille Bowles, Ethel Blenkinsop, Kate Brand, Gertrude Crawford, Margaret Dean, Joan Fish, Charlotte Foxcroft, Jessie Gare, Mary Hopkins, Edna Merritt, Frances Matterson, Rene Melorin, Dorothy Pain, Isobel Sim, Myrtle Wong, Julia McClurg.

You'll never be satisfied with anything else
once you see RINSO WHITENESS

THE first time you see Rinso-washed clothes your experienced eye will detect instantly that Rinso not only washes whiter, it gives the whitest wash. In fact, the only standard of real whiteness is Rinso whiteness!

Colors wash beautifully in Rinso too—they stay just as bright as new, through dozens of launderings. In fact, Rinso helps all the clothes in your wash to wear longer because it floats away dirt without rubbing.

Whatever your washing experience, once you've used Rinso you'll never be satisfied with anything else. Use it this coming washday. Get the GIANT package at your store for extra economy.

DO YOU KNOW THE MAKERS OF 26 CANADIAN WASHERS RECOMMEND RINSO? YES—RINSO KEEPS COLORS BRIGHT—MAKES CLOTHES LAST LONGER, TOO.

P.T.A. Activities

CEDAR HILL

A large number of members attended the meeting of Cedar Hill P.T.A. in the school Wednesday evening.

The president, Mrs. J. Kingcote, welcomed the new members also new members of the staff. Business routine followed and addresses were given by Principal A. Cullen on the past work of the association, and Trustee J. R. Burridge on the efforts of the board to improve the educational system in Saanich. Questions were invited and answered by Mr. Burridge.

One of the winter activities will be a country fair at St. Luke's Hall on Friday, Nov. 6. Mrs. J. M. McGee was chosen convener, together with a committee of 15, to make arrangements. Mrs. A. E. Hardy was chosen head of the membership committee and efforts will be made to increase last year's membership of 112.

Refreshments were served.

MONTEREY P.T.A.

Monterey Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday evening in the Monterey school, with Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, the president, in the chair. Following the regular business, reports were given concerning plans for the season's coming activities. Mrs. J. N. Wardell was made convener of the membership committee for the coming year. Mrs. E. H. Tucker for the hospitality committee, and Mrs. Jackson for the Kyuquot school aid. Mrs. H. S. Jones, publicity convener, reminded the members of the Better Parenthood Week commencing throughout North America on Sunday, Oct. 4, which is Family Sunday at all the churches. Mrs. J. H. Fulton, convening the fall bazaar, reported that much progress had been made to assure its success. A letter from the Oak Bay playground committee thanking the P.T.A. for its material assistance in carrying on last summer was read by the secretary, Mrs. Wallace R. Gunn. An invitation was extended by Mr. A. S. G. Musgrave, civilian protection officer of Oak Bay, to members of the association to attend a lecture by the British freighters on Tuesday night, at the Willows Sports Centre. The feature of the evening was the spirited talk by Mrs. W. G. Pottinger on the highlights of the convention of the Canadian Confederation of Home and School, held recently at Calgary. The next meeting will be held in the Monterey school Oct. 27.

OAKLANDS

Tonight at 7:30 moving pictures will be shown by Mr. Flintoff, for children, in the Oakland's School Auditorium, Belmont Avenue, sponsored by the P.T.A.

Overseas Boys Glad To Welcome Canadian Women to London

By ALAN RANDAL

LONDON (CP)—When the R.C.A.F. (women's division) moved into headquarters here they had a field day—everybody (that means the men who have staffed R.C.A.F. H.Q. for a couple of years) wanted them to talk.

Well... you know how women are, or are supposed to be... they're supposed to love a good bit of spelling.

"I guess the Canadian boys had just been so long away from home they wanted to hear a Canadian woman's accent," said Cpl. Mary Ward of Shawinigan Falls, Que. "Anyway, they'd stop you on the street when they saw the 'Canada' shoulder flash and say 'just say something, anything so long as it's Canadian!'"

TICKLED PINK

A.W. Nora Botterill, a slight, dark-haired girl from Rocanville, Sask., who is working in the information branch, said she was "tickled pink" to be in London. She enlisted in Ottawa where she worked in the Department of Trade and Commerce.

A.W. Peggy Douglas from Winnipeg, acting as secretary to Air Marshal W. A. Bishop during his visit to Britain, said, "It's grand to be here."

There's still quite a lot of acclimatization ahead of these girls. Cpl. Ward said she noticed some of them were already picking up such British words as "petrol" for gasoline, "wireless" for radio. But they've the black-out to get used to.

"I'm all right once I'm out in it," said Cpl. Ward. "But when I'm indoors and have to go out I'm terrified."

R.C.A.F. Girl Denies Report of Marriage

LONDON (CP)—Section officer Patricia Griffin of Winnipeg, a member of the women's division of the R.C.A.F. at headquarters here, today chuckled over a newspaper report that she was married shortly before coming overseas.

"It certainly wasn't me who married," she said.

The error arose from an item published in a London newspaper in which Miss Griffin told a reporter that a bride of just a month was among the first contingent of women to arrive here for work at R.C.A.F. headquarters.

"Poor dad," she said when told the incorrect report that she had married had gone back to Canada and come to the attention of her father, H. L. Griffin, in Winnipeg. "You certainly should get it straight that I am not married," she added.

Special Advice Given With Sale of Bulbs

Once again the Gordon Head unit of the Red Cross comes across with a fund-raising idea, that will appeal to a very large section of Victorians, the amateur gardeners. For months the wayside stall on the Marine Drive at Gordon Head has been a familiar sight at weekends, and by the sale of flowers, garden produce and home-made edibles of every description has raised a very considerable sum for the cause. Next week-end will be the closing date for the season and will be marked by a great sale of bulbs of every description.

It is estimated that 5,000 bulbs have been donated by the commercial and amateur growers of the district to be sold at all prices from 1 cent to $1 apiece, and there will be interesting lots of named and mixed varieties by the dozen and by the hundred.

Local experts will be on hand to advise as to selection and culture and it is pointed out that now is the time to plant for good results next season. There will be every variety from fritillaries to anemones, and from emperor daffodils to Clara Butt tulips. Such well-known commercial growers as Edwards, Houltham, Vantreight, Tucker and Padden have donated generous quantities of fine named varieties, and it is pointed out, now that the great shipments of bulbs from overseas has been almost completely cut off, that this is an opportunity that is most timely.

In addition to the sale of bulbs there will be the regular display of home baking, home-made pickles, fruits and vegetables of every description. The stall will be in operation Saturday and Sunday from 1 o'clock to 6 and is situated right outside of the gates of "Strangewood" at the corner of Ferndale and Tyndall Avenue, exactly seven miles from the city centre.

The Women's Missionary Society of Esquimalt United Church held an enjoyable luncheon meeting on Tuesday in the schoolroom. Mrs. E. King, president, welcomed the guests, and Rev. J. Hood asked the blessing. After lunch, Mrs. W. G. led the devotional period, and Mrs. J. Townsend sang "My Task," accompanied by Mrs. W. Parry. The guest speaker was Mrs. Butters, who gave an interesting talk on "Life in Iran," where she spent many years. Mrs. Hood expressed the appreciation of those present to the speaker and soloist. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Stelke, 1214 Old Esquimalt Road, on Monday, Oct. 19.

Cheers won't check a panzer drive—but War Savings Stamps will help.

Little Theatre Opens Season With Play and Concert

By AUDREY ST. DENYS JOHNSON

Before an audience which packed the Little Theatre Hall, Rockland Avenue, to capacity, the Victoria Little Theatre and Dramatic School Thursday night opened its doors to commence a new season dedicated to its three-fold policy—the production of first class programs (which will include seven evenings and four 3-act plays); the training and presentation of talented actors and actresses, and last, but not of least importance, the entertainment of men and women in the services stationed in and around Victoria.

This opening was designed also as a drive for membership, and, judging by the enthusiastic reception given the program, this drive should receive a hearty response. A Little Theatre movement, to survive, must have on its membership roll, everyone interested in the theatre, whether from an acting, technical, writing, or merely on-looker point of view.

The Victoria Little Theatre, the first, and now the only organization of its kind in the city, in commencing its season last night, made an eloquent appeal through the medium of a keenly amusing, well-produced one-act play, "Cromwell's Chair," and, through the kindness of Group Capt. S. L. G. Hope, D.F.C., A.F.C., the R.A.F. Concert Party.

SPARKLING HUMOR

"Cromwell's Chair," which was written and directed by a well-known local actress, Connie Thompson, was a festival winner some years ago, and was happily anticipated by members of the audience who were present on that occasion. It is a Yorkshire comedy, and was capably handled last night by an experienced cast who brought conviction and sparkling humor to the all-too-brief scenes. The parts of Mary Ellen Preston and her husband Joe, were played by Mabel Ridley and Jack Atkinson. Sarah Ann Whiteoak, a "nosey-parker" neighbor, was played by Connie Thompson, Cromwell Butterfield by William Hutchinson and Mr. and Mrs. Horsforth-Newby by Jack Reynolds and Noel Cusack.

R.A.F. CONCERT PARTY

The R.A.F. Concert Party took charge of the second part of the evening, and under the direction of A.C. Jerry Gosley, presented their own revue, entitled "Smile." The 14 items gave the audience every opportunity of so doing. Long applause and laughter greeted the artists, and there was not a dull moment, as one turn followed another, displaying remarkable variety and talent. Included were numbers by the R.A.F. Dance Band; songs by L.A.C. Frang Montgomery and L.A.C. Denis Collyer; monologues by A.C. Syd Seff and Jerry Gosley; Impressions and impersonations by L.A.C. Jim Skelly and L.A.C. Ben Blumenthal; a tap dance by L.A.C. Bill Butler; violin solos by L.A.C. Stan Carr, and piano duets by L.A.C. George Walker and A.C. George Fairbairn. There were also some numbers by the newly-formed string section of the band. L.A.C. Leslie Roberts was the announcer and L.A.C. R. Hale the vocalist with the band.

The Victoria Little Theatre orchestra was in attendance and played during the intermissions.

The city zoning board of appeal Thursday approved plans and specifications of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. J. Millins to convert 1126 Dallas Road into a two-family home. Similar approval was given Miss Eva S. Carey for premises at 1523 Davie Street and plans of L. H. Rawlings to change 1354 Craigdarroch into a five-suite house were authorized. The request of C. B. Holmes for permission to change 306 Edward Street into an eight-suite house was tabled.

By PETE SALLAWAY

AS EXPECTED, New Westminster Salmonbellies made it two straight over Victoria United Services in the B.C. box lacrosse final. However, the local club regained a lot of prestige by forcing the talented Fishermen right up until the final 10 minutes. From listening to broadcasts of the games we would say the Salmonbellies won on the strength of experience and polish. The New Westminster club also seemed to have the scoring punch when it counted most.

One very marked feature of both games was the manner in which the New Westminster boys controlled the faceoffs. As everybody knows, who follows sport, possession of the ball is everything and the Fishermen by getting nine out of 10 draws enjoyed a terrific margin. If the Victoria team had used its weight advantage in the first game as it did in the second it might have proven a lot tougher series. But the big trouble with the Victoria team can be laid to the loss of those three stars, Jack Williams, Archie Dixon and Jesse James. With that trio in the line-up we feel the story might easily have had a different ending.

Salmonbellies should go on to win the Canadian championship and with it the Mann Cup. From reports we hear, the calibre of lacrosse in eastern Canada this year is far below that of previous seasons. This is due mainly to so many of the eastern stars having joined the services.

If you happen to be a baseball executive with colorful personality, in need of a job, just apply to the front office of the Brooklyn Dodgers. They have a front-running ball club and nobody to run it, following the resignation Wednesday night of that fireball Larry MacPhail. And the job is worth something like $75,000 a season. And that's not hay.

MacPhail, who often stunned those staid officials of the National League with his screwball ideas, worked wonders with the Dodgers. When he went to the club in 1938 it was a defunct property controlled by a trust company, its leading creditor. Since MacPhail took over the club has been able to clear off all its debts and has been converted into one of the most valuable properties in baseball.

Previously MacPhail had rejuvenated the Cincinnati franchise, which was dying at the roots when he was taken from the presidency of the Columbus Club of the American Association in 1933 to head the Reds. There he forced the major leagues to accept night baseball. MacPhail may be followed into the service by Dodger manager Leo Durocher, who has applied for a naval commission.

The baseball experts are doing a lot of comparing these days over the merits of the playing materials of the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals, likely opponents in the world baseball series. These comparisons are O.K. but it must be remembered the "breaks" will play a major role. In a short series, especially, a club has to have Lady Luck on its side to meet with success. Or have you forgotten that famous missed third strike of catcher Mickey Owen's last year?

tonight with Ancient Chalky Wright putting his crown on the line against up-and-coming Charley (Lulu) Costantino, a kid out of New York's east side.

The betting is 5 to 6 that Lulu's youth and speed is more than enough to take care of the Los Angeles Negro's experience and knockout punching power, and that the east side youngster will be the boss of the 126-pounders when the shooting stops.

Lulu lost a close decision to Wright a few months back over the eight-round route. However, in most of his recent trips to the post, Wright has appeared to tire as the going grew longer. For that reason, a lot of the "Jacobs Beach" savants figure Costantino will come on to win at the 15-round derby distance.

Cooper Bests Dickey

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—It will be Walker Cooper, St. Louis Cardinals' outstanding young catcher, against a no-longer-robust Bill Dickey in the approaching World Series, and under the circumstances the vote will have to be a wavering one in favor of the kid.

For a half-dozen years Dickey has been the greatest catcher in baseball, a long-legged iron man, who slugged from fifth position in the Yankees' batting order and, everything considered probably was the most consistently valuable cog in the magnificent Yankee machine.

In previews of other World Series, it was customary merely to point out that the Yankees had Bill Dickey and the opposition had to like it. Bill was that good—not only a murderous hitter, but a magician at handling pitchers.

BOWS TO AGE

This time, though, it is painfully necessary to record that the backstop of the generation has at last begun to bow to age and an accumulation of injuries. He has been out of action perhaps half of the present season and will not have played in anything like 100 games.

When he is in there, of course, Bill still is the master craftsman, a symphony of motion, and now and then he can knock the cover off a baseball. But he can't do it regularly any more, and it would be risky to assume that he might catch all the games in the coming series, much less catch as he used to do.

Cooper, on the other hand, is one of the game's most brilliant youngsters; fast as a streak, a timely if not overpowering hitter, and an able handler of the Cardinals' fine pitching staff. His batting average at last official tally, was only .281, compared to Dickey's .290, but he had caught 120 games to Dickey's 79, and had played a fighting part in the Cards' great last-quarter dash past the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Ronrico Wins Stake

Emil Sporri, that little veteran jockey, celebrating his wedding anniversary, put on a riding show for the benefit of the fans at the Willows track Thursday afternoon. Sporri came down with three successive winners in the second, third and fourth races.

Sporri had been experiencing trouble the last few days crashing the winners' circle and it looked just as if he wanted to show the younger riders he can still shoot them in when the pressure is on.

Ronrico, that good-looking three-year black colt, claimed Tuesday by Miss R. Bain, came through for his new owner to capture the featured Gulf Islands Handicap over six furlongs and 30 yards. Ronrico, running with his stablemate, Hi Rhythm, broke on top from the gate and, after beating off a challenge from Steveston Bill going around the first turn, went on to win with the fast-closing Hi Rhythm taking second money. Steveston Bill ran third. Ronrico paid $3.20, $3.60 and $2.65 across the board.

Odds-on favorite Dry Hills, owned by the West Bros., carried off the first race, after killing off Si Green going down the back stretch. Son of Broxa closed fast to take second, with Si Green saving third money.

Another favorite came down in the second when Trip Over galloped off with the big end of the purse. Spanish Ball and Zelpha Lad staged a great stretch duel to finish in a dead heat for second. The well-liked Wave-length went to the outside rail on the first turn and lost all chance.

CALGARY (CP)—Dave (Sweeney) Schriner who announced last spring after leading Toronto Maple Leafs to a Stanley Cup victory, that he had retired from hockey, said Wednesday that he will report early next month to the National Hockey League club's training camp at St. Catharines, Ont.

The high-scorer left winger said he had promised Maj. Conny Smythe, former Leaf manager, a few weeks ago that he would

N.H.L. Moguls Silent

TORONTO (CP)—Delegates to the National Hockey League's management committee meeting here Thursday agreed on one important matter—to forget, for the time at least, the English language. They absolutely would not talk.

The secretive overlords of the world's richest hockey league went into closed session at 10.30. They adjourned for lunch at 2. They resumed about 3.30. They adjourned about 7, but they wouldn't say what they discussed.

Naturally, the question bothering the general public is whether the Brooklyn Americans will operate in the N.H.L. this year. Just so the public won't think no attempt was made to uncover the inside stuff on this important matter, here are a couple of conversations with the men most interested in the decision:

With Frank Calder, league president:

Question: "Will the Brooklyn Americans operate in the N.H.L. this season?"

Answer: "I believe that question has been answered in the press several times."

Question: "Yes. But none of the answers have been official, have they?"

Answer: "No."

End of conversation.

With Red Dutton, Brooklyn manager:

Question: "Is Brooklyn on the schedule drawn up by the management committee this afternoon?"

Answer: "That's something I can't say. I wasn't at the meeting." Question (by Dutton): "What makes you think we aren't on it?"

Answer: "Because nobody will say you are."

Question (by Dutton): "Will anyone say we are not?"

Answer: "No."

Comment (by Dutton): "Then, ha, ha, ha."

End of conversation.

It is believed the management committee drew up a schedule this afternoon with or without Americans. Dutton, who attended the morning meeting with delegates from Toronto, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, New York and Montreal, was not in attendance at the afternoon session. But he will be at the governing board's conclave today.

St. Louis Within Game Of National League Flag

Cooper Hurls 10th Shutout Of Season

St. Louis Cardinals, close to clinching the National League baseball pennant, are likely to be the shortest priced entry the senior circuit has sent against New York Yankees in many years simply because of one man—Mort Cooper.

The odds layers are tentatively calling 10 to 7 against the Cardinals in the series with the world champions and this is quite a tribute to the big right-handed pitcher who they figure might handcuff the world champions, once, twice or even thrice.

The grown-up Missouri farm boy has shown he is capable of beating just about any club in baseball any time his teammates get him one run. Thursday he whitewashed Cincinnati Reds 6 to 0 to assure the Cardinals of at least a tie for the pennant and put them in a position to clinch it today or tomorrow.

It was Cooper's 22nd victory against seven defeats and for the fourth time this season he allowed only two hits, both singles. He walked no one and the only Red to get past first was Gee Walker, who was allowed to steal second unmolested after two were out in the fourth inning.

It also was Cooper's 10th shutout, which may be more important, because this not only was the best mark of any pitcher in the major league this year, but the best of any hurler since Carl Hubbell pitched 10 scoreless games for New York giants in 1933.

Cooper's 22nd victory by a 6 to 0 count came just one day less than a year after Whitlow Wyatt won his 22nd by a 6 to 0 count at Boston to clinch the pennant for the 1941 Dodgers.

IN TOUGH SPOT

Today, the Dodgers are in danger of marking that anniversary by being eliminated from the race. They came up against the Braves for the last time and a defeat would knock them out of even a chance to tie, but they may slide out anyway tomorrow when the Cardinals, after taking today off, resume action against Chicago Cubs.

The Dodgers downed Boston 5 to 3 Thursday by coming from behind with four runs in the sixth inning after spotting the Braves three runs on four hits and three errors in the third frame. All of Boston's seven hits were made off Wyatt in six innings before he was relieved by Hugh Casey in the seventh. But Wyatt received credit for the triumph, his 19th and the fifth in a row for Brooklyn.

In the only other National League activity Thursday the Phils and New York Giants divided a doubleheader. Bill Lohrman pitched New York to victory in the first game 8 to 0 with a sturdy four-hit performance.

Then in the nightcap the Giants were held to four hits by John Podagajny and George Hennessy and beaten 3 to 2. The former was banished from the game, along with catcher Ben Warren, for protesting Umpire Ziggy Sears' ball-and-strike judgment in the third inning and Hennessy made strong relief showing—allowing only one run, Mel Ott's 29th homer.

The Phils scored three times off rookie Bill Voiselle and furnished an opportunity for Ace Adams to make his 61st relief appearance for the Giants, tying the major league record set by Clint Brown of Chicago white Sox in 1939.

The American League competition was limited to one doubleheader which the White Sox took from Cleveland 3 to 1 and 4 to 2 to push the Indians within half a game of dropping out of the first division. Ted Lyons scattered nine hits in the first game and Ed Smith allowed only four in the second.

COAST LEAGUE

Shades of 1939-41 are reflected in the current playing form of Seattle, Coast League champions for that three-year period, against Sacramento, this year's pennant winner.

A 2 to 1 win Thursday gave the Rainiers a 2 to 1 game margin over the Solons in the semi-final president's cup series.

The Solons, playing on their home lot, went right to work with three hits for a one-run lead in the opener, but Carl Fischer tightened up and allowed one additional safety for the rest of the game. Bill Schmidt yielded seven Rainier blows.

Two hits in the sixth knotted the score for the Rainiers and they scored the winning run in the next frame on a single, a sacrifice and a fly out.

A Los Angeles pitcher, Ray Prim, equalled Fischer's four-hit performance to blank San Diego 1 to 0 on the Padres' field.

Angel batters collected five safeties off Wally Hebert and Frank Dasco, who yielded one hit in working the final frame.

Peanuts Lowery crossed the plate with the lone Angel tally in the first inning after he had singled, advanced to third on a sacrifice and an infield out, and was scored by Johnny Moore's hit to the pitcher's box.

Five Teams in Island Ice Loop

New Vancouver Island Senior Hockey League will comprise five clubs, Victoria Machinery Depot, Navy, Army, R.C.A.F. and Nanaimo. It was decided at a meeting held in Victoria Thursday night.

After vetoing a suggestion the circuit be reduced to four clubs, in order to make a shorter playing schedule, the delegates named the executive along with Lieut. Cmdr. Dr. Curry as a committee to draw up a tentative schedule. Plans call for 45 games at the Willows Arena and 15 at Nanaimo. In addition to its regular 12 home games Nanaimo will get three additional fixtures with the Navy, Army and R.C.A.F. at home.

Clubs will play twice a week in Victoria, Monday and Friday nights and Saturday evening at Nanaimo.

It is planned to open the new league in Victoria Oct. 26 with the first game at Nanaimo, Oct. 31.

Discussing season prospects, the managers of all five clubs stated they would have strong, well-balanced teams and forecast a keen battle for the championship. The four Victoria teams hope to start getting into condition shortly after Oct. 1.

It was decided to have a referee and linesman officials at all league games.

H. B. (Barney) Olson, president of the Willows Arena, was given the go-ahead to secure a championship trophy for the new league.

Columbus 1 5 2 Batteries—Lambert and Botarini; Crouch, Barrett, Burkhart and Heath.

Meatless Days? No Worry, Soybeans Supply Protein

By DR. FRANK THONE

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Meatless days, even whole meatless months in an emergency, need have no nutritional terrors, if a supply of soybean, cottonseed or peanut flour is available, the American Chemical Society heard at its meeting here from Dr. Theodore F. Zucker and Dr. Louis Zucker of Columbia University. These flours, which are made from the seeds after the oil has been extracted, are very rich in protein and certain vitamins, so that they should prove highly valuable as additions to ordinary wheat flour, making bread a more nearly balanced diet.

It is possible to make a meatless sandwich just by buttering two pieces of this mixed-flour bread and slapping them together. The "meat" is invisibly present, incorporated in the bread itself.

Both soybean and cottonseed flours have distinctive tastes to which the eater needs to become accustomed, Dr. Zucker stated. Cottonseed flour makes a yellow loaf, but most of us are used to it. On the other hand, it is very cheap—five cents a pound on the current market. Peanut flour offers less difficulty so far as taste is concerned, but its price is considerably higher.

The Doctors Zucker made up test batches of bread out of various mixes of these seed flours with wheat flour and tried them out on rats, which thrive very well on them, needing no other source of proteins. They also got sufficient quantities of two necessary vitamins, thiamin and riboflavin, from the seed flours.

CHEMICALS AND CHARCOAL FROM SUGAR CANE

Another by-product of agricultural industry that may find profitable use through chemical handling is bagasse, the woody waste left after the sugary sap has been crushed out of sugar cane. Prof. Donald F. Othmer and George A. Fenstrom of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn told the meeting of their experiments with this material.

From a ton of dry bagasse, heated in a dry still, they obtained 35 pounds of acetic acid, one and one-third gallons of crude methanol (wood alcohol) and 750 pounds of charcoal. The acetic acid and methanol are in large demand as industrial solvents, and charcoal is a familiar domestic fuel in the warm lands where sugar cane is grown. The experimenters pressed it into briquettes for marketing.

NO POTASH SHORTAGE IN THIS WAR

World War I caught us short on potash, necessary alike for farm fertilizer and chemical manufacture. It isn't happening this time. The pre-1914 German monopoly of this important mineral has been broken by the development of an American potash industry. Dr. George R. Mansfield of the U.S. Geological Survey pointed out.

At present, only the highest grade potash deposits in the west are being worked, but these alone would be enough to supply American needs for 200 years, at present rates of use. In addition there are large quantities of other potash minerals that are not profitable to exploit at present, but may be made so by future technical advances.

How potash is helping the United States to win the war was outlined at the same symposium by Dr. J. W. Turrentine of the American Potash Institute. With plenty of this highly important fertilizer element now available, farmers need not stint their fields as they had to during the first World War, but can use all they need. This means bigger crops from the same acreage, which in turn means more bread, more meat, more vegetable oils for ourselves and our allies.

B.C. Fish Value Up $10,000,000

George Alexander, assistant commissioner of fisheries for British Columbia, told the Rotary Club Thursday that the value of fish caught in B.C. waters leaped $10,000,000 from 1940 to 1941.

Giving an illustrated lecture in which he showed a fisheries department film, "British Columbia Salmon—From Sea to Can," he said the value of fish caught in B.C. waters in 1940 was $21,710,000—in 1941 this total had expanded to $31,732,000.

In salmon alone, Mr. Alexander remarked, the increase was over $7,000,000. In 1940 the salmon catch was valued at $13,757,000. In 1941 the total was $20,879,000.

The movie showed the salmon industry from when the fish entered the sea until it appeared in a can on the grocer's shelf. It showed salmon spawning in inland streams after their bruising trip to the place of their birth.

Purse seine and gill net fishing was pictorially described. The picture then showed the salmon being unloaded from the packer at the cannery. The process in the cannery emphasized how machinery had taken the place of the human hand and how the fish went from the dock into the can without being directly handled by any of the cannery employees.

How B.C. maintained its high quality ended the movie as it showed the stiff government requirements the canneries must meet before they can market their fish as grade A with the label "Canada" embossed on the can.

Fined for Doing Work Without Permits

Aldon Edward and Beatrice Duke were fined a total of $40 in Saanich Court Thursday, when they pleaded guilty to making structural and plumbing changes in their house without obtaining the necessary municipal permits.

One motorist was fined $15 for exceeding 30 miles per hour and another was fined $5 for going through a stop sign.

Russia Offered Aid on Rubber

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the great mysteries around Washington is what happened to Russia's offer to assist in expediting the United States rubber program and why it wasn't accepted.

Last February the Russian government offered to send to Washington experts and formulas on synthetic rubber. No reply was sent to this offer although Russia has been producing synthetic rubber for years and the United States knows little about the complex process.

"Had the offer of the Soviet government been accepted," the Baruch committee which studied the rubber situation reported, "it is conceivable that plants for producing rubber might well be on the way to completion."

Although Russia in mid-August suggested again that it send the information, the offer still has not been accepted and nobody seems to know why.

One possible explanation is that the Russian process uses alcohol from grain whereas the American process and also the Canadian have a petroleum base. Proponents of the alcohol process have been unable to persuade Washington officials of its superiority over the oil process.

Italians Tricked

NEW YORK (AP)—Russian ingenuity in the use of concealed bridges for retreat and counterattacks in the battle of the Don bend draws plaintive comment from Il Giornale d'Italia of Rome. "The Soviets" said the newspaper in a dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio, "built several dozen bridges across that river (The Don) which were, however, completely invisible to Italian ground troops and also to the air force because they were laid about a foot and a half below the water's surface."

Louis and Conn 'Broke'—Jacobs

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike Jacobs doesn't know what War Secretary Henry Stimson is investigating about the Joe Louis-Billy Conn bout, but since there's been so much hollering over $94,000 the two boxers owe him, Mike wonders if folks realize that fighters depend on promoters for "move-around" money to keep going between fights.

Stimson announced his investigation in Washington Thursday saying he was "shocked" over details of the arrangements for the Oct. 12 fight in Yankee Stadium.

One "detail" of the fight is that the war department originally announced it as a 100-per cent charity for army emergency relief, although several days before this announcement a representative of the war department had seen Louis at Fort Riley (Kansas) and discussed with him payment of certain of his debts from the bout.

Another "detail" is that a total of $135,451 is to be taken from the gate to pay debts listed against Louis and Conn. Of this sum, Mike says $94,305 is owed him—$59,805 by Louis and $34,500 by Billy. The other $41,146 is owed by Louis to John Roxborough, one of his co-managers.

While officials handling the bout said today they didn't believe the fight would be called off, Jacobs asserted that there's nothing unusual about fighters owing promoters sizeable chunks, especially when the fighters are the heavyweight champion and his No. 1 challenger.

PROMOTER MAKES ADVANCES

"Fighters have to go to someone for money between fights," said Jacobs, who was asked by the war department to promote the bout. "So they ask a promoter for an advance on their next fight."

"Don't forget that Louis hasn't made a quarter since he fought Lou Nova last September, and that Conn hasn't had a good 'touch' since he took on Joe a year ago last June."

"Before the Nova fight, Joe owed me $64,000. He paid me out of this purse and took care of a lot of other debts. That left him almost broke again, so by the middle of October he started borrowing again, figuring he'd have a fight early this year and could straighten it out once more."

"But in January he fought Buddy Baer and turned his entire purse over to navy relief, and in March he knocked out Abe Simon and gave his whole end to army relief. So, with no income in a year, he's had to borrow. One of the things I paid for him was a $21,000 tax bill."

"It's been almost the same with Conn. Since his first fight with Joe, he got married and built a house in Pittsburgh. He asked me to loan him money until his next fight. 'See, a fight promoter is just like a loan company—only without charging interest.'"

Sport Shorts From Britain

LONDON (CP)—Baseball is being played all over Britain—much to the bewilderment of most of the populace—so the London News Chronicle hit on an original idea to educate the masses.

Under a three-column heading, "Ever Hear of Baseball," along with a diagram of the playing field and positions, the paper published a purported exchange of pleasantries relating to the game between "Tom Tiddle of the British Army" and "Joe Jukes of the American Army."

The scene was laid in "The Hammer and Tongs," a pub, and many a mild and bitter went down the hatch before the American finished explaining the game to his cricket-thinking ally. In initiation into the rudiments of the sport began for the Tommy when the American commented that the Red Sox had him worried "because they're going to slide." Then it went like this: "Why don't you pull them up?"

Further dialogue about "socks" and "sox" and then Jukes says: "For crying out loud, I mean the Red Sox, Red Sox. The American League Boston Red Sox. (Sadly) Ever hear of baseball?"

"Sure. It's the game where grown-up men attack a little ball with a club," Tiddle declares.

Then the lesson begins, with the barmid interjecting to ask if the audience ever kills the umpire "like I hear them call out in the films (movies)."

RING NOTES

Cpl. Ernie Roderick, British and Empire welterweight king, took time out from his air force duties to return to his native city of Liverpool and knock Jim Herlihy of Dublin kicking. Herlihy's gameness proved his downfall for he decided to mix it with the champ and went down in the fourth of a scheduled 10-round bout. The gong saved him from the count but his seconds threw in the towel. . . . Pte. Eddie Petrin of Montreal Canadian bantam champion, will shortly make his second appearance in a London ring in an Aid-for-Russia tournament against L.A.C. Joe Davis, a tough customer from the R.A.F. Eddie's London debut wasn't so successful. He was pitted against flyweight king Jackie (Dynamite) Paterson in an exhibition affair and hit the deck early.

Word reached here of the death in Switzerland of Ben Longchamp, former European rowing champion, at the age of 72. He was regarded as the pioneer of Swiss rowing.

'MY FAVORITE SPY' AT DOMINION

A band leader's efforts to help his country, get him in trouble with his newly-wedded wife, and make up the side-splitting basis of the new Kay Kyser vehicle, "My Favorite Spy," now being shown at the Dominion Theatre.

Just as he is being married, Kyser finds himself drafted into the nation's counter-espionage forces and assigned to help run down a ring of foreign spies. Since he must keep his activities a secret even from his bride, Kyser can't explain what he is doing, running around at night with an attractive blonde and getting into trouble with the police. This, of course, throws plenty of rocks into the course of true love and leads to many of the hilarious situations, and to the ingenious conclusion.

YORK THEATRE

Expertly blending 'fast-paced adventure with an unconventional romance, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Honky-Tonk," which is now at the York Theatre, presents Clark Gable and Lana Turner in the starring roles.

This rip-snorting story of a western gold camp, with its backdrop of an unusual romance, seemed to leave a unanimous first-night impression that the initial teaming of Gable and Turner had produced the outstanding emotional adventure story of the year.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"Holiday Inn," Paramount musical and romance picture, makes folks happy at the Capitol Theatre, because it's that kind of swell entertainment.

Starring Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire, a who-could-ask-for-anything-more song and dance combination, "Holiday Inn" sparkles with 11 new Irving Berlin hit tunes warbled by the inimitable Bing and danced to by the one and only Astaire assisted by two new dancing partners, Marjorie Reynolds and Virginia Dale.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

Impersonating his famous dad was Eddie Foy Junior's means of entry into films. Since "Lillian Russell," in which he portrayed Foy Senior, he has chalked up an impressive number of hits in the field of comedy. He has one of the top roles in "Joan of Ozark," Republic's comedy currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. Judy Canova and Joe E. Brown are starred in the production which Joseph Santley has so ably directed.

RIO THEATRE

Four of the original six young "tough guys" who literally created a sensation in the New York stage production of "Dead End," and were afterward summoned to Hollywood for motion pictures, appear at the Rio Theatre today in "Mr. Wise Guy," the Monogram drama in which they are starred. The four brash young men are Leo Gorcey, Bobby Jordan, Huntz Hall and Gabriel Dell, grouped under the title of "The East Side Kids."

ATLAS THEATRE

"Take a Letter, Darling" co-stars Rosalind Russell and Fred MacMurray, with MacDonald Carey, Robert Benchley and Constance Moore in supporting roles at the Atlas Theatre. The plot concerns the determination of a highly successful business woman (Rosalind) to keep her back turned on romance, and the equal determination of her good-looking male secretary to make her do an about-face.

CADET THEATRE

Three hundred pound Robert Creig, veteran of scores of butler roles, is cast again as a butler in his featured role in the new Paramount comedy, "Sullivan's Travels," which is now at the Cadet Theatre, starring Joel McCrea and Veronica Lake.

The huge featured player says he makes his biggest cinematic splash in this film. He is tossed into a swimming pool fully clothed. It's an idea for a laugh by Preston Sturges, who wrote and directed the film.

Dorothy Dix:

A Divorcee, Who Returns Home, Finds an Unpleasant Situation

DEAR MISS DIX: I was very unhappily married for seven years; two years ago I finally was forced to come home to my family for help. At the time they seemed to give me a warm, but now I find myself elected the family goat. My mother is a neurotic who enjoys ill-health most of the time though she is quite young and good-looking. My father has dumped the responsibility of looking after her upon my shoulders. He has also given me the job of keeping the books and doing the office work for his business.

My married brothers and sisters think it no more than right that I should take care of their children and help them out in every emergency. It all sums up into my being a slave for the whole family, doing the work of two or three people, getting no pay and regarded as a dependent to whom they are all being kind. I had an opportunity to take a good position away from home, but my whole family were indignant at the idea, and say that I owe it to my father and mother to stay with them after all they have done for me. Now I hate to hurt any of them, for they did stand by me when I was in trouble. But must I give up my whole life to them to pay it back?

TIED AND DISCOURAGED.

ANSWER: You are sharing the common fate of the divorced daughter who comes back home to father and mother, and who almost universally finds the situation so unpleasant that she feels she has jumped out of the frying pan into the fire and wishes with all her heart that she had stood her husband's philandering or his drinking or his temper rather than have to endure mother's nagging and father's tyranny.

Nothing is more ironic than the position a family takes about a daughter who is having trouble with her husband. As long as Mary writes tear-soaked letters about how cruel John is to her and how her heart is breaking, they urge on the flight by bidding her not to stand it and to come home to mother and father, but when Mary makes the break and comes back the whole atmosphere changes.

FROST ON THE DOORMAT

Instead of being received with open arms as she expected, Mary finds there is a good deal of frost on the doormat and that she is not regarded as a suffering martyr but as a black sheep who has to be apologized for and explained to the neighbors. Father and mother feel that having gotten her married, she should have stayed married and not have been thrown back on their hands. The brothers and sisters regard her as a parasite who is getting more than her share of the family estate.

Furthermore the family consider that Mary, having made more or less a mess of her life, should be humble and grateful for having been taken in and given her board and keep, and that the least she can do in return is to do all the disagreeable jobs that nobody else wants to do. Furthermore the family are abnormally afraid she will be talked about and so she is expected to live the life of an anchorite.

This makes a dish that doesn't set well on the stomach of the woman who has had her own home and her personal freedom, and so the prodigal daughter does not find that the fatted calf has been slain for her. Not even a chicken has been killed and her last state is worse than her first.

So, dear lady, your fate is the common fate of the divorcee, and I think you will be wise if you refuse to succumb to it. Break away from your family and take the good job that is offered you. Make yourself independent. If you go on as you are now you will be a slave to your parents and when they die you will find yourself stranded, for your brothers and sisters will not want you in their houses. Your father and mother have been kind to you in your hour of need, but they have done nothing that you should repay by sacrificing your life to them.

G. Foster Dies in Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CPI) — Gladstone Foster, 76, veteran of the first Great War and resident of Nanaimo for 57 years, died today at his home. He opened the first photographic studio in Nanaimo.

Surviving him are four sons, Cedric, Clyde and Herbert of Nanaimo and Nelson in South America, and three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Bennett and Mrs. L. McIntyre of Nanaimo and Mrs. D. Malsack of San Francisco. The funeral will be held Saturday.

But War Changes

Prior to the war, India raised the most cattle; China, the most hogs; Australia, the most sheep.

East Indies Nettles Cause Pain for Eight Days

When I was about eight years old, I learned for the first time about nettles of a certain kind. Small plants had what seemed like "common leaves," but when I touched them I felt pain in my fingers.

From that time forward I took care not to touch such weeds. Once or twice, however, I was absent-minded while walking about bare-footed and stepped against the nettles. When that happened, you may be sure I was in a hurry to step away!

About 475 kinds of nettles are known. They range in size from tiny plants to tall trees, and are found on all continents of the earth. Some kinds cause no pain when touched, but all those with "stinging hairs" are to be avoided.

The stinging hairs may be so small that you do not see them when you glance at a leaf, but even the smallest of them can do harm. They have sharp points which cut into the skin.

Tests with many kinds of nettles have shown that the stinging hairs carry an acid into the skin. This acid is poisonous in a small way, but most kinds of stinging nettles do not cause much damage; there is a little pain, but it goes away before long.

The worst stinging nettles grow in the torrid zone. One kind on the island of Timor is called the Devil's Leaf, and causes pain which may last several days.

Another tropical nettle is found on various islands of the Dutch East Indies. When a person touches it, he at first feels a tingling at his fingertips, but no more. The real pain starts about an hour later, and it has been compared to the searing of a red-hot iron. The hand swells, and the pain runs up the arm. Cases have been reported of the pain lasting for eight days, but the worst of it is over at the end of a single day.

Nettle trees of great size grow in Australia, chiefly in the part called New South Wales. These trees sometimes grow to a height of more than 100 feet. When they are young, their leaves have stinging nettles which it is well for man and beast to let alone.

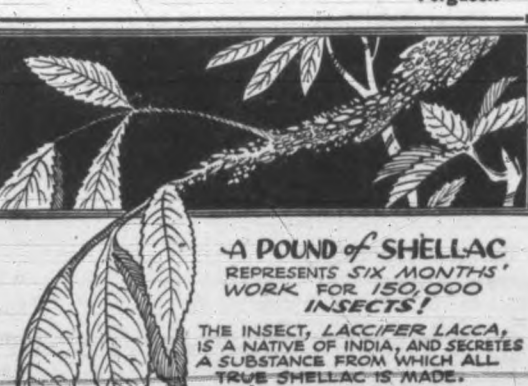

Thirsting hairs are helpful in saving a plant from being destroyed. Grazing animals learn to go around places where such plants grow.

Ladysmith Fair Draws Big Entry

LADYSMITH—Ladysmith's annual two-day fall fair which concluded Thursday, was an excellent show window of the district's products. Mayor W. W. Walkem said in opening the show.

Cup winners in the various classes were T. Honeyman, for aggregate points; Miss D. Bryant, most points in flowers; J. A. Hartley, most points in fruits and vegetables. Mrs. A. Sharp was awarded a special prize for her fine showing in domestic science. Mrs. M. Wilkinson was two points lower.

In the baking and canning sections, competition was keen and the quality of the exhibits was good throughout.

Some fine photographic and pencil work was shown along with two exceptionally fine oils. The schools entered a fine display of class work. The manual and industrial art classes showed fine student work which included wood models and machine tools and parts. Displays of fruit and vegetables were abundant.

Cedar district exhibited the only district display which proved a highlight of the fair.

Chest Funds Rise Past $24,550 Mark

Community Chest collections

since the current drive began rose to $24,550 Thursday as special names and residential canvasses yielded good returns.

The objective is $80,000, and is required to finance the Salvation

Army home front work for the remainder of this year, and all of next as well as to support 21 social service agencies of proved value here.

Special names returned $4,450

Thursday, while the residential division added another $2,624 to its excellent collections in preceding days. Returns were also made by the industrial group and public services division.
